

Jobless pay for hospitalized GC 'judge of jobless'

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

An investigator in the special investigations division for the Northwest, Central and Southern Regions of the Illinois Unemployment Insurance Division conceded to the Press-Record today that his office has been slow in completing its study of an employee of the division who allegedly received unemployment benefits to which she was not entitled during October 1977 from the Granite City office.

The woman employee allegedly prepared certification documents here claiming her eligibility for unemployment benefits just before she entered St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

She allegedly received checks both for sick leave and for unemployment during the first three weeks of October 1977, the investigator, Robert F. Rauch, said.

During those three weeks, the woman is said to have received a total of $149 in unemployment benefits.

He believes she was not entitled to them, since unemployment rules require that applicants be "able, available and actively seeking work."

A subsequent investigation, basically concluded by him in July 1978, led to the woman returning the $149, he said. But he agreed that the woman has been promoted since that time, and now is in a position where she judges whether others are eligible for unemployment benefits or whether such benefits should be denied.

"I have been unable to make up my mind whether this was an oversight or something else," Rauch told the Press-Record.

He said he has said the basic information on the investigation for about six months, but has not yet completed his reports for his superiors.

Rauch pledged that he will complete his written reports on the case this week and will submit them to Mrs. Agaliece W. Miller, commissioner of the Unemployment Insurance Division, Bureau of Employment Security.

Madison middle school delayed

Progress in construction of the new Madison Middle School is being delayed by the masonry subcontractor due to a lack of bricklayers, the Madison Board of Education was informed Thursday night in a report by Architect Henry H. Gabriel.

Superintendent of Schools John Palchiff told the board that he contacted the general contractor, L. Wolf Company, about the completion date and its relation to the fall opening of school.

Palchiff said the contractor does not think it will be ready in time, as things look now.

The original target date for completion was July 1, 1979.

Bob Wolf, of L. Wolf Co., has cited to Palchiff the severe winters, and a strike by laborers in August 1978.

According to the progress report, prime contractors expressed concern over being held responsible for completion being behind schedule, due to the weather and the masonry manning problem.

Bill Maupin, superintendent of the school construction site for the Wolf Company, said two full crews of bricklayers could be used on the project as soon as weather permits.

Dick Jones, project manager for the Illinois Capital Development Board (CDB), has urged use of additional bricklayers, the board was told.

The board authorized purchase of two new dishwashers, one for Blair School and one for Harris School, from Bensinger Co. of St. Louis for a total of $5,936. Bensinger was the low bidder.

The board received notification from the Pepsi Cola Company that it would like to furnish a scoreboard for the new Middle School.

Walter Rickert was hired as a crossing guard at McCambridge Avenue and Sixth Street.

FRIGID TASK at Granite City Locks No. 27 at the southern end of the Chain of Rocks Canal. A wide restriction has been put into effect due to build-up of ice on the interior lock walls. At the facility Friday afternoon, ice is being chipped away by Jimmy Bonds, a maintenance man, seated on a chair lowered by a cable to the top of the ice just above the water level. All tows are now being limited to a maximum width of 105 feet to eliminate excessive obstruction of the locks. An air impact tool is used to chip away the ice.

Venice deadlock continues

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

The Venice City Council will meet at 5:30 p.m. today in another attempt to choose an acting mayor until the April 17 election.

Members of the council also could be served with court summonses, as McKinley Bridge employees are seeking a writ of mandamus to force the council to act or have the court decide the issue.

Seventeen bridge employees did not receive their paychecks on Friday, after the council failed to decide on an acting mayor. A city payroll is due Wednesday for other Venice employees.

The current deadlock is 4-4 between Aldermen Tyrone Echols and Phillip Daniels.

Daniels was appointed by former Mayor William Ebersold and approved by the Venice Council Dec. 19, 1978, to fill the First Ward vacancy of Thomas Voegelé, who resigned upon moving out of the city.

Ebersold retired as of Jan. 1 and Alderman Harry Buente was chosen as acting mayor Jan. 5 before resigning as acting mayor effective Feb. 1 due to health reasons.

Bridge Manager Thomas Fields informed the aldermen by letter Friday evening of the bridge employees' intent to go to court if a decision was not reached Friday on a mayor, enabling paychecks to be signed. The council met both Thursday night and Friday afternoon, splitting 4-4 along racial lines.

The suit is being filed by Vernon Brown, a bridge employee.

The law firm of Callis and (Larry) Hartman is representing Brown.

Fields said Brown's attorneys are trying to go before a judge some time today.

Echols previously tied with George Mangaracino and then Buente before losing a coin toss. Some aldermen feel that to select Echols would give him an edge, since he is one of the April's election candidates for mayor. Others say that because he and Buente participated in the coin toss and Buente now has relinquished the post, Echols deserves to become acting mayor.

Alderman John Ervin said Friday Alderman Daniels would have a conflict of interest if he were to draw a check from the fire department and as alderman, plus as mayor.

Venice City Attorney Harry Hartman said Daniels could not, in his opinion, draw the combined salaries, but it

Major cost cuts on way

By DONALD STUCKE
President

The Board of Education and the Administration met on Monday evening, Jan. 29, to review the Granite City School District's financial position, and to discuss ways to make our district financially sound without increasing taxes or cutting educational programs.

This meeting was covered by the news media and the account I read in the Press-Record was accurately and thoroughly reported.

Briefly, it was pointed out how we arrived at our present position. Our expenditures, with rising costs, were far exceeding our reduced revenues.

The attempts to alleviate the condition with less spending, self-insurance, moratoriums on capital outlay, and the reduction of some staff were insufficient to improve our position substantially.

Temporary solution to meet obligations were explained — namely, using tax anticipation warrants, and also the selling of working cash flow bonds. Obviously, we cannot do either forever.

To minimize the many rumors and suppositions that have developed since this meeting, I would just say that we have not made any decisions on anything at this point.

It is apparent we must take measures of cost reduction. We have reached critical times. Everyone should be concerned.

It is our responsibility to give our children the best education possible with the ways and means available to use. We, therefore, discussed possibilities of major cost reduction and instructed the administration to bring back any and all solutions that were discussed.

These solutions will be analyzed and a decision will be made as to the most advantageous for all concerned — the steps that must be taken to save the millions of dollars necessary to achieve a balanced budget.

Scouters honored

(Editorial on Page 16)

Mrs. Vee H. Throne, 809 Niedringhaus Ave., and Robert E. Moske, 2549 Boyle Ave., along with Mary B. Smith of Glen Carbon and Paul P. Tucker of Highland, were presented the Silver Beaver Award of the Boy Scouts of America on Saturday evening.

The surprise awards were announced at the 29th annual recognition dinner of the Cahokia Mound Council, held in St. Mary's Engelbert Hall, Madison.

Present Leo Schermer told the capacity audience the council has just been rated tops in the ten-state scout region and is in the running for best in the nation in recruiting gains.

Elvin Foehner of the Silver Beaver committee made the award presentations, and the main talk was by Bishop A. McNicholas of the Springfield

Catholic Diocese.

Mrs. Throne is currently committee chairman of Boy Scout Troop 16.

She formerly served four years as a den mother with the Washington School PTA's Pack 19, and has served as a den leader coach, Unitah District vice-chairman for Cub Scouting, a member of the council executive board and chairman of the council's Scouters' Reserve.

Mrs. Throne has received the district award of merit, den leaders' coach award, arrowhead honor award and wood badge.

A member of the First United Presbyterian Church, she is active in the Seafarers and the United Presbyterian Women's Organization.

She is a Sunday School teacher.

Area priorities set

During a meeting of the Community Development District 2 (Quad-City) board Friday, it was decided to approve requests for allocations through the 1981-82 fiscal year.

Objections were voiced by residents and officials of Pontoon Beach and of Eagle Park Acres, but both were told by Mary Kane, director of the Madison County Community Development office that they can apply for discretionary funds next year for their proposed projects.

At a previous meeting last month, the board members agreed to distribute about $841,650 in community development funds which will be made available in the 1981-82 fiscal year on the basis of population.

Madison City Comptroller Al Hudzik, a member of the board, agreed to obtain the latest available population information and to divide the requests for the various governmental units on a per-capita basis.

At Friday's meeting, however, residents of Eagle Park Acres objected, saying their area has a small population but a great need for improvements.

Eddie Lee Salmond of Eagle Park told the board that allocating the funds on the basis of population "automatically kills us. We could not pay for one program. We couldn't function."

Venice Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff agreed, saying, "This distribution eliminates the special needs of the poor. The Benjamin

Arson probe in Pontoon store fire

An arson investigation is being conducted in a fire that heavily damaged the Wholesale Carpet Co., 4010 Pontoon Road, today.

The Long Lake Fire Department was called at 1:25 a.m.

According to a fire department spokesman, the Illinois State Fire Marshal arson investigators are on the scene today.

Investigators of the Illinois Division of Investigation, and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are investigating the possibility of arson.

The fire department spokesman said a 55-gallon drum was found at the front door of the carpet store containing an undetermined flammable substance.

Electrical wires leading from the barrel and wires from near the west wall were found connected and led to a point about 100 feet away from the building, to a point behind a fence and some bushes.

The west wall was completely down when the firemen arrived at the scene. Firemen are not sure if this was caused by an explosion or the fire.

The entire ceiling collapsed.

PFC. RICKY BURCHAM

Soldier electrocuted

Army Private First Class Ricky Gordon Burcham, 20, of 2160 Cleveland Blvd., was electrocuted while on winter NATO maneuvers in the southern part of West Germany Tuesday, Jan. 30, it was learned here Friday.

Funeral arrangements are indefinite, pending the arrival of the serviceman's body in Granite City.

Pfc. Burcham was killed when the radio antenna of his Army tank struck a power line at a railroad crossing, about five miles south of Schweinfurt in Bavaria.

It is believed another crew member on the tank was injured and hospitalized.

Details of the incident were not confirmed by Army authorities in St. Louis until Friday. Further information will not be released until an investigation has been completed.

Pfc. Burcham graduated in 1977 from Granite City High School South, where he played football and was manager of the Warrior football team in his senior year.

He enlisted in the Army July 26, 1977, and had been serving in Germany for about a year. He was stationed near Blnloch.

The tankman was assigned to D Troop, 1st Squadron, of the 2nd and Armored Cavalry Regiment, part of the U.S. Army's 7th Corps.

Pfc. Burcham was born in Alton and had resided in Granite City for eight years. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Granite City.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Tax revolt—a slow change in spending, or Proposition 13?

By CATHEY JAMISON
Press-Record Staff Writer

Everyone seems to be up in arms over taxes. People have always gotten uptight over one tax or another, but in the wake of Proposition 13 in California, a grassroots effort to lower taxes seems to be under way.

Elected officials are being pressed to do something about high taxes. The tax issue has become important to those who hope to be re-elected. In 42 out of the 50 states, legislation being introduced to reduce the amount of money taxpayers are contributing to keep government going.

The idea of drastic tax cuts is frightening to those who fear that essential government services may fall by the wayside. Alternatives to drastic across-the-board cuts were the subject of a one-day public affairs forum held at the Holiday Inn, Collinsville.

Sponsored by groups from both sides of the river, the forum brought public officials, citizens and professors from Missouri and Illinois. Three panels probed such things as the consequences of tax revolt, local revenue sources, and efficiency and productivity in the public sector.

Jo Curran, president of the St. Louis County Municipal League, was a member of the first panel. She questioned whether the revolt for lower taxes, property taxes in particular, is truly a grassroots movement.

She said the issue is becoming a political football. Politicians in some areas, she contends, are encouraging people to support the revolt idea for the sake of being re-elected and because they really want to see tax cuts.

If John Q. Public is tired of paying high tax bills, he is even more outraged by the lack of communication between himself and the government.

He hears about what cutbacks would do, and everything is gloom and doom. Officials warn that essential services would be curtailed and some programs done away with altogether.

Some of the things that the government considers essential are not seen that way by the working man, the taxpayer. It boils down to a matter of priorities.

Until there can be some sort of agreement on what sort of services are necessary and which are merely icing on the cake, the public will continue to resist high taxes.

Genell Moore, health services coordinator for Region 4, Illinois Department of Public Health, had much to say about the social services that are paid for by the taxpayer.

According to Mrs. Moore, many of the programs that fall under the social service category would be severely damaged if they lost any of their funding.

Programs like Children and Family Services, Commission on Dangerous Drugs and Alcoholism, programs for veterans, the aging, the blind, employment security, Manpower and many other agencies would be affected, she said.

She added that many of the agencies are already suffering under some previous cutbacks, and that any further reduction in funding would make it impossible for some of them to function.

There were many speakers on the three panels,

all interested not in cutting back services but in improving the methods by which they are delivered.

Most agreed that trimming some of the "fat," the inefficiencies, the paperwork, the abuse and the fraud in some of the agencies would help government live within its means.

If some of the suggestions for revamping the tax structure to make it more equitable for all are followed — and if spending can be controlled and waste cut — then maybe taxes will at least stabilize.

Members of the panels were of the opinion that doing these kinds of things were far better than making drastic broad-axe cuts.

We have not seen too much of Proposition 13's ramifications as yet, but people are keeping an eye on the Golden State.

In the meantime, many concerned citizens are also taking a look at ways to lay the tax revolt to rest, so as not to send the whole country into a tailspin.

Meanwhile, old John Q. Public will continue to go to work every day and pay taxes. If he doesn't get the relief he seeks, the phrases "tax revolt" and "taxpayer resistance" are going to be heard much more often, and much louder, it was indicated.

Hope to study area bridges' structures

At its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, the Board of Directors of East-West Gateway Coordinating Council discussed the status of the St. Louis CBD (Central Business District) bridge study, aimed at solving the bridge traffic problem by using the older existing bridges more efficiently.

A key component of the study, the structural analysis, has remained unfunded because of ineligibility.

Gateway has submitted a proposal for special funding to the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) Intermodal Planning Group, stressing the importance of the structural analysis and its funding situation. Representatives of the office of the secretary of transportation will be in St. Louis Feb. 6 to discuss the proposal.

The physical condition of the bridges must be known in detail before reaching any conclusion about the feasibility of rehabilitation or improved access to the bridges, Gateway asserts; for this reason, the structural analysis is essential to the study.

The board last week appointed Fred Dalton of Collinsville to the board of directors of the Greater St. Louis Health Systems Agency. He is vice-chairman of the Madison County Board.

Gateway acted to officially add two projects to the council's work: the Industrial Waste Exchange and the Regional-County Water Quality Boards.

The Industrial Waste Exchange project will encourage recycling of industrial waste products. Market analysis, publicity, and management services for this project will be provided under contract by the Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

Establishment of Regional and County Water Quality Boards is a high-priority recommendation of the Water Quality Management Plan adopted in April 1978. These boards will provide input from public officials and citizens for Gateway's continuing water quality management efforts.

In other actions, the Gateway board:

— Endorsed a $356,000 community development block grant application from the City of St. Charles, Mo., for city-wide housing rehabilitation and specific public improvements.

— Endorsed a $4.15 million Missouri State Highway proposal for reconstruction of the I-70 Mo. Rt. 79 interchange in the O'Fallon-St. Peters area of St. Charles County.

— Approved use of $440,000 in Federal Aid-Urban System funds for improvements to Tenbrook Road in Arnold, Mo.

Jobless pay

Chicago, and to Leroy Cramer, Southern Region manager, Unemployment Insurance, Centralia.

"It will be up to them to decide what action should be taken. There has not been a cover-up of this thing. Everyone has been reprimanded, but the case was never closed.

"My office has been very busy and we have a lot of work there. There have been a lot of forgery cases recently, and we have to give forgery cases our top priority," Rauch commented.

"I realize there have been some errors made here, but procedural changes have been made since that time. And controls are being set up even now to see that this type of thing does not happen again," he added.

Basically, according to Rauch, his investigation has shown that the woman in question asked the Granite City Office manager, Don Hamner, if she could receive sick leave or vacation benefits for the time she was to be in the hospital, and her subsequent recuperation time.

"She was told the budget would not allow her to claim sufficient sick leave and vacation benefits while still leaving funds for Hamner to be overruled else to do her work," Rauch said.

"She did understand that under rules of the department, she could collect sick pay only for the days she had been scheduled to work.

"Since she then was working two days a week, she filled out proper forms applying for sick pay two days a week for the three weeks she was to be gone. Those benefits amounted to $60.15 per week. Hamner initiated those forms for payment," Rauch added.

"Then," he alleged, "she also filled out the certification forms which certified she was eligible for unemployment compensation benefits for the same period.

"Those certifications were routed through Manager Hamner, through a supervisor, a batching employee, and then to someone who actually typed the Social Security number and necessary information into the computer.

"Hamner initiated the first certification, which he said was under oversight on his part," Rauch said, noting that the other two were not initiated by Hamner.

"Everyone in the office knew this woman was in the hospital. Some of them even visited her. Someone should have caught on that she was not eligible, but they did not," Rauch told the Press-Record.

"In addition to the $60.15 per week from sick leave, she received unemployment insurance checks for $42 the first week and $38 for each of the second and third weeks," according to the investigator.

Later, Rauch's office was informed of "the overpayment," Rauch confirmed. He said a Mr. Powers from Centralia was assigned to investigate the matter.

"After Powers concluded the investigation, C. Thompson Ross, administrator of the Bureau of Employment Security, and Mrs. Miller were made aware of the situation by letters whose authors have not been publicly identified, it was related.

Rauch was asked to look into the situation and said he met with Cramer and Powers, both in the original and Bellemille unemployment offices. Those discussions were tape recorded, but the tapes did not turn out well enough to be understandable, Rauch said.

However, he said he kept notes on the meetings and still has those notes.

Rauch also said he met with every employee of the Granite City office to discuss the situation.

"I found that all the employees but one thought this woman was a dependable, conscientious worker and deserved to be the person promoted when a better position opened. Mr. Hamner also thought she was the person who should be promoted, and did so," Rauch stated.

The woman currently is full-time and investigates and judges the eligibility of applicants for unemployment insurance benefits in borderline cases, he related.

"I have not completely made up my mind in this case. I believe there was a new office manager, having started around January 1977, and it was probably an oversight on the part of the new manager that I was not worried because I was a very hectic, particularly in the fall and winter.

"It appears there have been a breakdown in the whole system. I cannot decide whether the woman employee who received the benefits knew she was doing wrong.

"She said she was under the impression that it was all right," Rauch said.

He remarked that it is his fault that his report to Mrs. Miller and to Cramer has been delayed six months and emphasized, "The case is still open. There has been no cover-up here."

Mrs. Miller, contacted by the Press-Record, checked the status of the investigation and confirmed that it is still under way.

Reviewing the allegations, she said flatly, "We will have none of that," and promptly asked Rauch to come to Granite City and review the status of the investigation with the Press-Record.

Mrs. Miller confirmed she was notified of the allegations in May 1978 by the letter signed "Kinzer Baldwin," which detailed the dates of hospitalization and the receiving of unemployment benefits and which contained the incident had been "covered up."

Mrs. Miller said she received the letter, checked and found an investigation was in progress. She said not, however, kept track of its status since that time, she told the Press-Record.

Rauch said the letter was referred to him and he made efforts to contact Mr. Baldwin, to no avail. He said the address on the letter was checked and he found there was no such address in East St. Louis.

A Kinzer Baldwin was located, but said he did not write the letter, Rauch said.

Similarly, a letter to Ross from Ernest Jones Jr., supposedly relating a talk Jones had with Baldwin about the incident, was investigated by Rauch, who said he was unable to identify the author.

He said he believes the letters, particularly the one to Mrs. Miller, were written by someone familiar with the incident and the investigation, but he does not know who wrote them.

Rauch pledged his full written report on the Ober 1977 case will be submitted to Mrs. Miller and Cramer some time this week. "They will notify you of their decision," he concluded.

Hamner was contacted next and agreed basically with Rauch's findings. "I feel reasonably sure this will not end with just one person," he said, adding, "That is just my opinion."

He said he checked his records and found he did approve sick leave days (five for illness and one personal leave day) for the employee as well as initiating the request for unemployment benefits during the same period of three weeks.

"It was an error. I never matched the two different forms up, or I would have figured out what happened. There was, however, no intent to defraud."

Hamner said he does not believe the woman employee felt she was doing wrong, since she had legally been collecting two days of work pay and three days of unemployment benefits each week while she was a part-time employee.

"That is very proper. What she earned as a part-time employee was deducted from the benefit to which she was entitled. However, when she went into the hospital, she should not have claimed the unemployment benefits," Hamner said.

"When this came to light, I looked upon it real severely, as did everyone else. I was told to handle it, and immediately I took it to the computer as an overpayment which was deducted from her future unemployment benefits. It was paid back and I thought the case was over.

"Then the letters started to Mrs. Miller and Mr. Ross. From July 21 to July 25, 1978, investigators came down and studied this thing. I heard nothing after that and I was not worried because I have done what I felt was proper," Hamner said.

"This employee has been promoted twice since all this started, and both times it was because she was the most qualified for the job. She is a very valuable employee to me. It is just a shame she could not have settled this whole thing when it occurred."

"Now, it would be very difficult to get by without her. When she was promoted to her present post, effective Jan. 1 of this year, I felt she was very qualified for the job. She was the only one who applied for an opening and was the best qualified under the state merit system."

"I advised Mr. Cramer of the situation and he said if I felt she was the right person for the job, I should go ahead and promote her, which I did."

"She had very extensive training during that time, including one month of classroom training, and I feel she is very fair and good at her job. She understands the job better now, and if she filled claims out in error before, I know she would understand the requirements better now."

"I think we should understand that she is not all-powerful in her position. She and others decide, within a very strict set of statutes and court decisions, which cases go to the unemployment benefits and which do not."

"All decisions can be appealed, either to the former commission or to the claimant to a hearing officer, then to a board of appeals in Chicago and, finally, to the courts if they are not happy."

"My experience, with all this, is she has been a very fine employee," Hamner concluded.

Both Hamner and Rauch agreed that it appears the unemployment claims prepared by the employee for the three weeks of her illness were kept by someone else in the office and were submitted on a weekly basis to be entered into the state computer for unemployment claims.

Hamner said, "It is obvious I did make the first error, but the second two were not initiated, indicating to me they did not come across my desk."

"I at least doubt they were seen by the supervisor, or she would have put them on my desk," he said.

Asked if that meant someone other than the employee who was in the hospital had bypassed him and the supervisor in submitting the claims for payment, Hamner stated, "It appears that way. It appears there was some deviation from proper procedures." He said he does not know who submitted the claims for the employee who received the unemployment checks.

He and Rauch stressed that new procedures have been implemented to see that such things do not happen in the future. Among those is a "correction check," in which the state sends a monthly report to each office supervisor of every employee of that office who collected unemployment benefits and how much each received during the month, the Press-Record was told.

Hamner said the wording of Cramer's letter warning against such activities recurring indicates that "this is not just an isolated case."

Cramer said in one letter that he feels 99.9 percent of unemployment insurance employees are honest and have integrity in their work. The actions of a few should not affect the reputations of all good employees, the letter indicated.

Both Hamner and Rauch said the state is happy to have such cases receive publicity. "It acts as a warning to our employees that such activities will not be tolerated or covered up. We welcome such publicity because it shows that we are doing our job. We are investigating and solving these cases," Rauch asserted.

New school

In other actions, Madison High School students were given permission to hold a talent show at the school on March 30, and the Madison Junior Service Club was allowed to solicit for the March of Dimes.

The board approved an agreement with Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to continue to assist in the clinical training of SIUE students preparing to teach.

The administration is to begin meeting with the negotiations committee of the Madison Federation of Teachers for a 1979-80 agreement.

Joseph M. Cronin, state superintendent of education, informed the Madison board that full recognition of all of the school district's attendance centers has been granted for the 1978-79 year.

and Noel Landers, all residing at home; and grandparents, Mrs. Florence Stewart Burcham of Wood River and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Burna) Landers of Canolou, Mo.

The board approved a request from Bernard Long, principal of Dunbar School, for an Afro American Month assembly Feb. 28 in the school gymnasium.

It was voted to hold the next meeting on Thursday, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p.m. instead of Feb. 15 due to numerous conflicts in the schedules of board members.

A full military graveside memorial service at Jefferson Barracks National Cemetery in St. Louis is planned. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

$25,000 fire loss

Granite City firemen are studying the cause of a fire in a vacant house at 1014 West Pontoon Road, at 9:40 p.m. Friday, Arson is suspected.

The two-story dwelling, owned by Bernie Royce, 2862 Madison Ave., had been vacant only one day.

Estimated loss to the building was $25,000.

When firemen arrived, the stairwell to the second floor was engulfed in flames from a bedroom and kitchen area on the lower floor up to the attic.

Both the oven and four top burners on an electric stove in the kitchen were burning and the oven door was open, firemen said.

A double bed and couch in the lower bedroom were destroyed.

'Our Town' on Thursday

Found bleeding after tavern disturbance
Fred Beyrau, who said he resided at the Travelodge Motel in Granite City, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center with multiple injuries following a disturbance at Swanky Frankie's Lounge, 112 State St., Madison, at 12:05 a.m. Saturday.
Frank Marsala, owner of the tavern, alleged Beyrau and another man had been in the tavern, using abusive language and tipping over furniture. Marsala alleged Beyrau kicked the juke box and was asked to leave.
Beyrau started to leave with a beer bottle in his hand and was asked to put the bottle down. Marsala alleged, adding that the bottle then was thrown on the floor, breaking into pieces. Marsala said he forced the man out the front door and alleged the glass in the front door was broken as Beyrau attempted to get back inside. Madison police said no one in the tavern knew how Beyrau received the other injuries.
When officers arrived, Beyrau was on the ground bleeding from his mouth and head, they reported. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was admitted with contusions and abrasions to his face and left hand and injuries to his right shoulder.

January precipitation tops normal for month

January's ice and snow storms, although not quite as severe as the January months of 1977 and 1978, brought 2.35 inches of precipitation to the Quad-City area, including slightly more than 18 inches of snow, according to weather records maintained at the Chain of Rocks lock.

The severe ice storm that started off the January month amounted to .35 of an inch of rain and was not recorded as snow, according to the records.

No precipitation was recorded on 13 days of the month and a trace (an amount of moisture too slight to be registered) was recorded on two days.

This left 16 days of the month on which rain, freezing rain or snow, was recorded. The amount of snow in any given amount of precipitation varies greatly depending upon the moisture content of the snow, meteorologists note.

On the average, however, .10 of an inch of moisture constitutes one inch of snow.

Heaviest snowfall of the month by days was recorded on Jan. 24 with .55 of an inch precipitation, or three inches of snow, and on Jan. 31 with .53 of an inch precipitation, or three inches of snow.

Two inches of snow was reported on each Jan. 5 and 6, with three inches falling on Jan. 7, bringing the first snow cover of the month to this area to seven inches.

There was .05 of an inch of precipitation on Jan. 12 in the form of snow, followed the next day by .02 of an inch of precipitation in the form of rain which changed to snow, records show.

Another two inches of snow was recorded on Jan. 14. On Jan. 19, freezing rain measured .13 of an inch, followed on Jan. 20 with .20 of an inch of freezing rain and snow. Precipitation of .06 of an inch fell again on Jan. 26, followed Jan. 27 with five inches of snow, and on Jan. 28 with another .08 of an inch of precipitation.

The 2.35 inches of precipitation for the month was .37 of an inch above the month's normal of 1.98 inches.

Inflation, enrollment challenges

By REV. PAUL C. REINERT
Chancellor

St. Louis University Private colleges and universities are especially threatened by two forces, the economic crisis brought about by inflation and the enrollment crisis caused by the reduced number of college-age youth.

Four factors contribute to the economic problems of colleges and universities in the private sector. These include insecurity — caused by international unrest and a jittery stock market — providing a devastating climate for fund-raising.

Second, since colleges are labor-intensive institutions, they are harder hit than many others.

Third is inability to pass along the rising costs of utilities, insurance and other fixed expenses to the student and his parents.

Fourth, the cash flow problem — and the cost of borrowing money — is inescapable since there is no steady flow of income throughout the year.

There is very little, if anything, that colleges and universities can do about it.

The other major challenge which faces every institution of higher education for the coming decade is the radical drop in the birthrate which began in 1960.

There are real economies of scale in any college or university. When the scale is reduced, the economies are often harsh ones.

We run the very serious danger of cutting quality, because of fixed overhead. We can lose what specifically makes us distinctive, by reducing services that provide much individual attention to our students.

Every institution, as its enrollment decreases in the next 10 years, will have to look very carefully at the services which it offers.

And the services it cuts had better not be those that attracted students in the first place.

In the 19-state North Central accrediting association area today, those colleges and universities which are most successful are the church-related institutions which forthrightly declare their affiliation and commitment and stand firm for their religious heritage.

Clearly, parents and students are looking for this. We have noticed among our students a much greater interest in religion — and in the relationship and contribution of religion to a meaningful life.

To remain unique and distinctive, we must maintain educational quality of faculty and their commitment, thus causing students and their families to realize that we care about them as persons and as the coming leaders and hope for our society.

Beauticians plan programs

Programs for the new year and business affairs dominated the January meeting of the Elite Hairdressers Association, Affiliate 33, held last week at the Granite City School of Beauty Culture.

Sheila Morgan, newly installed president, was in charge of the business session.

Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Joyce Kotoff, secretary, reported on delivering a food basket, donated by the affiliate members, to Captain Elmer Trapp of the Salvation Army.

Plans were announced for a dinner meeting Monday, Feb. 19, at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville.

At the 7 p.m. dinner, Mrs. Dorothy Line, a member of the Illinois Hair Fashion Committee and Affiliate 33, will present a series of slides, showing "Retro Hair," the latest trend in hair styles, clothing and makeup, introduced at the Cosmetologists' Mid-Winter Convention in Las Vegas.

Mrs. Morgan said all area cosmetologists are invited to attend the meeting and are asked to call Mrs. Morgan or Julie Ahling, at 878-5432, for reservations.

In addition to Mrs. Line, another guest speaker will explain an Individual Retirement Plan available to beauticians, Mrs. Morgan advised.

TANDY SALES HIGHER Tandy Corporation, parent company of the worldwide Radio Shack store chain, reported consolidated sales for the December quarter of $386,269,000, a 14 percent increase over the year earlier. Net income for the three months ended Dec. 31 rose 21 percent at $35,575,000.

Marijuana arrest

Responding to a report of a prowler peering in windows at the Burger King Restaurant, 3406 Nameoki Road, at 4:50 a.m. Thursday, Granite City police stopped a maroon pickup truck matching the description of one which left the restaurant and arrested the driver.

The truck was stopped on Fehling Road and the driver, Robert L. Meyers, 19, of 2525 Adams st., got out to talk to officers. Police alleged a bag of marijuana was seen sticking out from under the front seat and a glass bottle containing five partially-burned marijuana cigarettes was found in the glove compartment.

Meyers was charged with possession of marijuana.

Nu Zeta to present $1,300 bonds, check

A $1,200 gift to Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children and a $100 gift to the Granite City School Board for Special Education purposes will be presented this week by Nu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Announcement of the donations was made last week at a chapter meeting in the home of Mrs. Margie Johnson, 2118 Johnson Road.

Mrs. Marcie Johnson, treasurer, said the presentation to the school district will take place at a regular meeting of the board Tuesday night.

A total of $1,200 worth of bonds will be presented to representatives of the Shriners on Thursday evening.

The funds were raised by the chapter from a doll house benefit project.

Mrs. Cheryl Barton, president, was in charge of the business session. She announced tickets now are available for the sorority's annual "Sweetheart Dance," set Saturday, Feb. 17, at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant ballroom in East Alton.

A group discussion on "Love" served as the cultural program, under the leadership of Mrs. Williams.

Immediately after the meeting, members honored Mrs. Amy Brasfield with a "grandmother's shower," in observance of the birth of her first grandchild.

Also in attendance were Naomi Macke, Rhonda Dooley and Carol Moerlein.

Buying home now may cut overall cost

Persons undecided whether to purchase a house now or to wait for interest rates to drop should seriously consider making that purchase now, according to Bob Fowler, economist with Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Fowler said that even if interest rates decrease one percent in the next year, the inflation in the housing market is likely to more than offset the savings from the lower interest rate.

Rises in homeowner's insurance, taxes and other costs support his contention. As an example, Fowler noted, a house purchased today at $80,000 with an interest rate of 9.5 percent would require a $450 per month payment for interest and principal, $91.66 in taxes and $14.58 per month for insurance for a total of $526 per month.

If the same house is purchased one year from now, the price is likely to have increased to $85,000, he said. With a loan of 8.5 percent, monthly payments for principal and interest would be $422.95, for taxes would be $100.83 and for insurance would be $16.04, a total of $539.82 per month. Therefore, purchasing the home now will save the homeowner $13.06 per month over the life of the loan, Fowler estimated.

He also said that couples who are saving money for a large down payment, thinking they are saving money, are probably making a mistake.

"Couples putting money for a house into a savings account should consider their after-tax interest on their savings. Assuming their savings net six percent, for those in a 25 percent tax bracket, the after-tax net is only 4.5 percent.

"This money is to be applied toward the purchase of a home that will cost 10 percent more. In addition, there is a tax advantage in owning much of the $50,000 for the purchase of the house, since the interest is tax-deductible," Fowler concluded.

College to open child-sitting room

A used television set and a variety of toys are all that are needed to put the finishing touches on Belleville Area College's child sitting center.

The BAC personnel office is in the process of interviewing candidates for the director's job, and babysitting for the children of students is likely to begin at the college within the next week or two.

The sitting service is for children whose parents are in class on the main campus of the college, 2500 Carlyle Road. It is funded by the 75 cents per hour charged to students who use the service. Ray Modrell hopes toys and a good used TV set will be acquired by donation soon, outfitting the third floor room (formerly part of the college's game room) for as many as 15 tykes at one time.

He notes that 22 of the state's 39 community college districts offer some kind of sitting service or day care to the children of students.

Belleville Area College, sixth largest of this state's two-year colleges, has not been able to offer this service in the past because of space limitations. The need for child sitting was so great, however, that the administration approved changing part of the game room area into a babysitting center.

Modrell adds that a television set may be given to the college through the BAC Foundation, which has tax-exempt status.

Adoption day — — for love of a pet

YOU'VE HEARD OF PUPPY LOVE (below), but what Steve Benda is experiencing (above) is a double dose of kitty love. The twins went home with the gentleman.

Emotions play a big part in an APA adoption. Sadness and joy and pity are displayed by the people who show up to adopt a puppy or give up a long-loved animal friend.

Involvement tends to breed emotion. The members of the APA (Animal Protection Association) are almost fanatically involved in their struggle to help those who often cannot help themselves, our pets.

At an adoption held by the association at the home of Connie Becerra, 2851 Washington Ave., the one thing immediately apparent was the determination of the members to find homes for all of the animals that were there that day.

Members had been looking after individual animals, and brought those puppies and kittens and a few older animals to Mrs. Becerra's front porch.

The scene was crowded as people began coming in. Some came to look around and others came to drop off animals that they hoped would be adopted.

The members were kept busy keeping track of the comings and goings of the animals.

Carol Willoughby, an active APA member, was making her way around the small enclosed porch, talking to people and showing off some of the kittens and puppies available for adoption.

An elderly couple came in looking for a cat. They had heard about a full-grown beauty that was to arrive at the scene at any time. Mrs. Willoughby tried to interest them in one of the twin white kittens that she held.

Shortly thereafter, the big cat was brought in and the couple adopted it. Mrs. Willoughby continued to carry a little white ball of fur with her, playing with it and showing it to everyone.

Then Steve Benda came in. He was looking for a kitten. Mrs. Willoughby made a beeline for Benda and soon the man and the tiny white kitten were the best of friends.

Not satisfied, Mrs. Willoughby went to the cage and got the little cat's twin and showed it to Benda. She told him how much fun it was to watch two kittens at play, and how the two would keep each other company.

Then she put the second kitten into Benda's arms and that was it. The gentleman adopted both of the matching puffballs.

He was happy and Mrs. Willoughby was happy. Much of the adoption day went that way. The animals found homes and the members of the APA were pleased to know that some of their furry friends would be safe from harm.

That is what the day was all about, and it is the group's intention that the work will continue until every animal has a home — with none having to suffer from lack of attention or the love that only a human being can give.

FINDING A HOME for both the kitten on her shoulder (above) and the lonesome pup (below) is the order of this particular day for Carol Willoughby.

GC to okay change in land grant pact

Granite City will agree to policy changes required by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to acquire a 34-acre tract of land at the Army Installation on which the city's sewage treatment facilities are located, according to Mayor Paul Schuler.

The City Council was notified a week ago that under the new policy a perpetuity restriction will be placed on all grants of surplus land made by the DHEW through the General Services Administration at Washington, D.C.

The city had applied for an outright grant of the Army Installation tract, but there is no reason why the city should not agree to the new policies which, among other things, requires the land be used only for "public" purposes, the mayor said.

Changes in the land grant procedures were explained by Paul E. Goulding, deputy administrator of the GSA, in a letter sent to U.S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson who had been asked to look into the matter for Granite City. Sen. Stevenson forwarded the letter to Mayor Schuler and City Council members.

Goulding said: "In October 1964, a 34.40 acre parcel of the support center was leased by the Department of the Army to the city of Granite City for a 50-year term for the construction of a sewage treatment plant. The plant is presently in operation.

"On August 23, 1977, the 34.40 acres, as well as other acreage at the support center, were reported excess by the Army to the General Services Administration (GSA) for further disposal action. In the absence of a further federal requirement, the property was determined surplus and made available to state and local governmental units, and nonprofit institutions for various public purposes.

"As a result, on June 14, 1978, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (DHEW) requested assignment of the property for conveyance to the city for health purposes at 100 percent public benefit discount.

"A subsequent objection by DHEW to a conveyance of the property to Granite City for health purposes subject to a perpetual use restriction has precluded GSA from making an assignment of the property to DHEW.

"Conveyances of surplus real property for health or educational use were previously made subject to the requirement that the property be used for the proposed use for 30 years. Earlier this year, GSA advised DHEW that assignments of surplus real property to DHEW for subsequent conveyance to eligible applicants for health and educational purposes will be made only on the condition that the property will be used for such purposes in perpetuity.

"The Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended authorizes the administrator of General Services, under such regulations as he may prescribe to assign surplus real property to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare for conveyance to eligible recipients for health and educational purposes at a monetary discount. Under the law the administrator has the authority to impose appropriate conditions with respect to such assignments.

"Under other provisions of the 1949 Act and related statutes, conveyances of surplus real property to eligible recipients are authorized for other public purposes such as park and recreation, historic monument, wildlife conservation, airport and highways. All such conveyances are made subject to perpetual use restrictions.

"These other public uses often require large expenditures to improve the property for the proposed use and we are not aware of any basis for differentiating between them and uses for health and educational purposes with respect to the perpetual use requirement.

"We believe that the public should receive the health and education beneficial uses of government property in perpetuity rather than for an arbitrary period. We have developed our position on this matter after full consideration of all pertinent aspects. Past policies that have tended to consider land as a disposable asset to be given away must yield to a new perception and a sense of responsibility directed to generations to follow.

"Our policies in the government's land disposition programs are consistent with our responsibility to ensure that the best interests of the United States are achieved in this important program.

"If Granite City is agreeable to accepting the property with a perpetual use restriction and DHEW is agreeable to conveying the property to the city with such restriction, GSA will immediately process an amended request for assignment from DHEW."

SOUTH DANCE

The Granite City High School South Student Council will sponsor a dance on Friday, Feb. 16, from 10 p.m. until midnight in the school cafeteria. Cost is $1.50 per person. North students are welcome, according to a council spokesman.

She has served as secretary and treasurer of the Granite City Armenian school board and has been active in the United Way, Girl Scouts and American Red Cross.

Moske, a teacher at Granite City High School North, is currently council commissioner of the Cahokia Mound Council. For years, he served as roundtable commissioner for the Uihwah District.

He has served as a committeeman with Pack 46 of the Nameoki School PTA; committeeman for Boy Scout Troop Five of the United Methodist Church; an institutional representative, and assistant scoutmaster of Troop Five.

Moske has received the scoutmaster's award, the district award of merit, council award of merit and wood badge training award.

Moske is an active member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church and the Holy Name Society of his church.

For ten years, he has served as a member of the board of directors of the Easter Seal Society, and he has been active in the Nameoki School PTA. A member of the Illinois Art Education Association, he has served as secretary, first and second vice-president and local convention chairman.

Moske is also active in the GCHS North Boosters Club.

He served on the regional staff of the National Boy Scout Jamboree in 1977 and has done much work in the promotion and maintenance of Boy Scout Camp Sumner.

Moske is also an active member of the Cahokia Lodge, Order of the Arrow, national honor camping society within the Boy Scouts.

He is a former cub pack committeeman and assistant scoutmaster. Active in the Kiwanis Club of Glen Carbon, he is known in the community as "Mr. Helpful" for his many acts of kindness and help to individual youths, Foechner said.

Smith holds the scouts' training award, scouts' key award, district award of merit and arrowhead honor for committees.

Tucker, from Highland, is currently district chairman of the Kickapoo District of the local council and has served as cub pack and scout troop committeeman, scout roundtable commissioner, an assistant scoutmaster, and vice-president of the council.

He holds the district and council awards of merit and is a member of the Order of the Arrow. Council President Schermer acted as master-of-ceremonies, with Father Ralph Scherrer, pastor of St. Mary's church of Madison, giving the invocation.

Others on the program included: William R. Monical, scout executive; Charlie Shanks, leadership development chairman; Foechner and Moske; Reginald Mennerick, chairman of the dinner, introduced Bishop McNicholas.

The benediction was by Harold Garrett, pastor of Suburban Baptist Church.

Taco Hut burglary nets $1,114

Granite City police are investigating a burglary at the Taco Hut, 2988 Madison Ave., between 1 and 8:30 a.m. Saturday in which the floor safe was opened and $1,114 in bank deposit envelopes was stolen.

There were no signs of forced entry, leading police to believe someone used a key and knew the combination to the floor safe. Taken, in addition to the money, were three bank bags and the locking top to the safe.

'TILL-TAPPING' HERE

A total of $190 in cash was taken from the cash register at Schermer Men's Shop, 10 Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center, between 2:30 and 4 p.m. Thursday. Clerks said a black couple entered and the man stayed at the front counter while the woman shopped in the back of the store, requiring assistance from an employee. When the couple left, it was discovered the money was missing.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler said the board has attempted to take special needs into consideration, but added, "Everyone has a lot of needs. The board previously decided to distribute these funds on a per-capita basis and then, if you have special needs, apply for discretionary funds."

Mrs. Kane noted that 10 percent of everything received by the county community development office is automatically put into a discretionary fund and another 10 percent is taken for housing rehabilitation projects.

She said the county's community development board will meet later, study all applications for discretionary funds, and approve funds for the projects having the highest priorities.

"The next discretionary allocation will be made next year at this time for funds to be received in 1980. However, the county cannot promise any funds," Schuler said. "I don't want to be misunderstood, according to some news stories I have read," Mrs. Kane commented.

Salmond indicated Eagle Park Acres has severe needs for fire protection, additional housing rehabilitation and other projects.

Mayor Schuler, chairman of the District 2 board, said, "Personally, I will do what I can to convince the board that District 2 gets a fair share of the discretionary funds. I do not see Granite City applying for any."

One project discussed for any surplus funds is a proposal by the city of Venice to construct 137 new family housing units on former John-Manville property.

Venice Township obtained eight acres of that property in return for a $35,000 tax write-off by the company. The township then donated the property to the city for housing when the township learned that a minibike track planned for there would not be suitable, Paschoff explained.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) currently is considering preliminary plans for the housing development, which would be "privately owned, maintained and managed," according to Mrs. Kane. However, HUD officials have expressed concern that a new housing development in the center of the residential area may deteriorate rapidly. "That is a problem because it conflicts with where we really need the improved housing," she said, noting that special permission is being sought from HUD for the new Venice housing.

Area

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk said he is afraid a large family housing tract could overload Madison and Venice schools, which already are having financial difficulties. "The people of Madison just built one new school and I am sure they do not want to build another," he said.

Sasyk said the school districts would prefer housing for the elderly.

Mrs. Kane said family housing is badly needed in Venice. "Housing rehabilitation in Venice is a problem, because there are so many houses to rehabilitate."

Poor Beach Village Board President Floyd D. Moss said he is disappointed with the allocation to the village of $37,024 for the 1981-82 fiscal year, saying initial indications were that a larger amount, in the vicinity of $203,951, was to be made available to the village.

He said the village hopes to build a community center, but noted, "We can't build anything with $37,000."

Moss indicated he probably misunderstood communications from the community development office on how much money the village would receive, and said the village plans to apply for sufficient discretionary funds to construct a community center.

Madison Mayor Sasyk said there is about $96,000 in unspent economic development funds available to District 2 and he requested that Mrs. Kane wait until Tuesday before deciding what project qualifies. "We want to put something together," Sasyk said.

Mayor Schuler called another meeting of the District 2 Board for 10 a.m. tomorrow to study requests for the economic development funds.

The board decided to balance a $38,894 excess of requested allocations over funds available in the 1980-81 program by transferring $38,894 of a $49,000 request from Nameoki Township for Eagle Park neighborhood improvements into the 1979-80 fiscal year.

Another $400 still to be allocated in that fiscal year was added to the $55,000 budget of Venice Township for Eagle Park improvements, increasing that category to $55,400.

Final figures agreed upon for the 1979-80 fiscal year were: Nameoki Township — Cloverleaf improvements $50,000; State Park improvements $120,000; and Eagle Park improvements, $98,894; Granite City — old town and West Granite City improvements $562,000; Madison — housing rehabilitation, $50,000; Venice Township — Eagle Park housing rehabilitation, $55,400; and Venice — housing rehabilitation, $55,000, totaling $1,001,594.

For the 1980-81 fiscal year, projects are: Chouteau Township — sewer tap-on aid, $100,000; Nameoki Township — Cloverleaf improvements, $50,000; and Eagle Park improvements $10,106; Venice — senior citizens center construction, $55,000; Granite City — overpass construction, $50,000, for a total of $802,706.

Allocations submitted for the 1981-82 fiscal year are: Nameoki Township — East Madison improvement, $80,000; and Mirado Manor and Bellemeadow improvements, $90,000; Granite City — street reconstruction, $250,000, and old town and West Granite City street reconstruction, $210,000; Madison — downtown parking lot, $81,680; Chouteau Township — sewer tap-on aid, $200,000; Pontoon Beach, senior center construction, $37,024, and Venice Township — Benjamin and Bloodworth street and light improvements and street resurfacing, $160,000, and Eagle Park sewer installation, $450,000, totaling $1,567,789.

Representatives of the city of Venice asked Mrs. Kane to hold their money in escrow until the city can select a new mayor and can re-evaluate requested allocations. She agreed the money can be reserved for them as unappropriated funds.

BREAK INTO HOUSE

Glass was removed from a screen door to gain entry to the porch at the home of Kenneth Rath, 2800 E. 25th St., between 5 and 9:30 p.m. Saturday and entry from the porch to the house was through an unlocked door, police were told. Drawers and a jewelry box appeared to have been searched, but nothing is known missing, the owner said.

Charged in hit-run accident

John Lowe, 38, of 4021 Pontoon Road, was charged with leaving the scene of an auto accident and with illegal transportation of liquor after an accident at 29th Street and Madison Avenue at 4:50 p.m. Friday.

Doris Bachtel, 62, of 2431a Edison Ave., said she was slowing in the northbound lanes of Madison Avenue to turn east on 29th Street when her car was struck from behind by a Jeep.

The Jeep then left the scene as police arrived. Mrs. Bachtel pointed out the vehicle and officers located it a short time later at Propes Avenue and Kate Street.

Lowe allegedly admitted having been in the accident and said he was going home. Officers found 10 cans of beer in the vehicle, they alleged.

Mrs. Bachtel suffered minor injuries, but did not require hospital treatment. Lowe was released after posting his driver's license as bond.

Year's study abroad offered

Four expense-paid awards for one year of study abroad are available to outstanding young people in the 24-county area of West-Central and South-Central Illinois through Rotary International.

These educational awards for the 1980-81 academic year may be for graduate study or undergraduate study.

In addition, it is possible for individuals from the same area to be considered for national grants for similar overseas technical training, special overseas advanced work for teachers of the handicapped, and journalism training abroad. Rotary International sponsors these education awards to foster international understanding.

The grants may be used at schools in any of the 154 countries where there are Rotary clubs. Round-trip air transportation, all tuition and educational fees and supplies, room and board, and some funds for educational travel in the country where each winner is studying are included in the award. Applications are available from all Rotary clubs, including Granite City and Madison-Venice. Completed applications must be submitted to the clubs by March 1. Clubs forward worthy applications to the district

Rotary governor by April 1. Applicants for the four graduate and undergraduate awards compete only against other applicants in the 24-county area of Rotary District 646 — not statewide or nationwide. No Rotarian or his relative is eligible for consideration.

Counting calories, snowflakes

If arctic winter weather has you stoking up on meat and potatoes more than usual, don't feel guilty. You may need a little more food to offset the added calories you may be burning according to a nutritionist.

But cold weather doesn't always mean you must eat more, says Carol Cole, visiting instructor in SIUC's Division of Human Development.

"Cold weather generally causes people to burn from 10 to 30 percent more calories if they remain at least as active as when it's warm," she says. "But people who tend to 'hibernate,' and exercise less during winter, should watch carefully what and how much they eat."

"Warm weather or cold, a balanced diet is the key to proper nutrition, and moderation should always be the rule."

"A balanced diet includes something from each of the four basic food groups — milk products, meats, vegetables and grains. Just because you may eat more in winter doesn't mean you have to spend more on food."

"Cheese, nuts, beans, eggs, poultry and fish are a few inexpensive protein substitutes for beef, lamb and pork. But you need to watch the amounts and combinations of these meat substitutes," she says.

Carol Cole also suggests that eaters watch the amounts of sugar and salt they consume.

"There are a lot of hidden sugars in foods, especially the convenience products that take up so much room on grocery shelves these days. Nearly everyone would be wise to cut down on sugar. The Average American consumes about 105 pounds of sugar a year, and that's way too much."

"Salt causes the body to retain water and is a leading source of hypertension among Americans."

"Many people are conditioned to salt everything they eat. It's good to get into the practice of tasting things first, and then salting them only lightly, if you wish."

"Food preparation can be a big factor in whether or not individuals consume adequate amounts of vitamins and minerals."

"High-temperature cooking destroys vitamins and minerals in vegetables."

"You get the highest nutritional payoff from eating vegetables in their raw state. But if that's not appealing, try steaming or baking them, as opposed to boiling or frying vegetables."

She recommends a hearty bowl of vegetable soup with some cheese and bread and a glass of milk as an ideal winter meal.

"You can make a small piece of meat or poultry go a long way in a bowl of vegetable soup," she says, adding:

"But watch the salt."

Mrs. Nonn will speak to Caucus

The Metro-East Women's Political Caucus will hold its first meeting of 1979, on Saturday, Feb. 10, at 10 a.m. in the Edwardsville City Hall, 400 N. Main St.

Jane O'Neill, Alton Alderman and program chairman of the Caucus, said interested area residents are invited to attend and consider joining the multi-partisan organization.

To encourage and promote the participation of women at all levels of government and in all areas of the political process, a mini-workshop will be presented in the form of a panel on the topic "Campaign Organization and Grassroots Involvement."

Cathleen Rosen, councilman in Fairview Heights, will discuss overall campaign organization; Carmen Diest Kerr, a candidate for the Illinois House in 1979, will talk about organizing workers; and Mrs. Margaret Alderman, Granite City, will tell how to mobilize campaign workers. The Caucus said it welcomes all interested in being to obtain an equal voice and place for women in the political system.

Aid to women students listed

A directory which lists more than 600 financial aids for women pursuing higher education is available for use in the office of the SIUE president. It was compiled by the American Association of University Women, according to Florence Gillig (692-2517), SIUE corporate representative to the organization.

According to the directory, women competing for general awards have not been particularly successful, and many advisers are unaware of the number of financial aids available primarily or exclusively for women.

The directory describes over 600 scholarships, fellowships, loans, grants, internships, awards, prizes, women's credit unions, sources of state educational benefits, and general aid directories.

Theft at party

A revolver, two checkbooks, two CB radios valued at $300 and $85, and a $50 table radio are known missing after a party at the mobile home of Tommy Gage, 16 Parktowne West, last week. After the party he discovered dresser drawers had been searched and the revolver taken.

He searched further and found that the other items were missing, including the checkbooks which are issued to T&E Escort Service, South Roxana, and contained a total of about 200 checks.

CAPACITY CROWD of homeowners in Granite City's Seventh Ward listen attentively to Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse and Alderman Paul R. Bowler explain why each owner of a single residence must sign up for a special $1,500 assessment cutback before Feb. 15 to recover any part of the increase expected in 1978 tax bills. Nearly 200 residents turned out for the discussion despite cold weather. "It's not often I get the chance to tell someone they have $1,500 coming in credit," the tax assessor said.

Registered nurse refresher classes

A six-week refresher program for inactive registered nurses will be offered at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Granite City, in cooperation with SIU at Edwardsville. Classes will be held three days a week — Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday — beginning the week of March 12 and continuing through April 19. The first three weeks will be in a classroom setting (9 a.m. to 3 p.m.) and the last three weeks will be clinical practice with supervision (6:45 a.m. to 3:15 p.m.). There will be a limit on enrollment of 15 students, and a minimum of ten students is required in order to conduct the program.

Those who seek employment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and remain for one year will be entitled to full tuition reimbursement. The fee for this course will be $80.

The program has been approved by Illinois Nurse Association Continuing Education Approval and Recognition Program for 94 contact hours.

Purpose of the course is to provide an opportunity for the inactive registered nurse to review and update her or his nursing knowledge and skills so that she or he can move into staff nurse orientation and return to practice, primarily in the adult medical and post-surgical area of nursing on a full or part-time basis.

Nurses may register for this program by contacting Betty Walker, continuing Education, School of Nursing, Box 66, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Ill. 62026. Phone number is 692-3956.

GATHERED AROUND ASSESSOR Von Dee Cruse, residents of the Seventh Ward turn in forms in applying for a reduction in the assessed valuation of their homes of up to $1,500.

"I think people are skeptical about signing up for the $1,500 credit because we're not used to getting something for nothing," one woman commented at the meeting.

Banks for car licenses better than mail as the deadline nears

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon reports that 2,179,989 sets of automobile license plates have been mailed from Springfield. "This clears up the bulk of mail order requests received in our office," Dixon said. "The 2.1-million-plus sets of plates are an increase of 417,316 over requests for special numbers last year. At this time last year, we had just completed mailing the last 1,762,673 sets of passenger auto plates." From now on, the only applications handled in the Springfield office will be those that trickle in by mail about 700 a day — and those sold over the counter at the Public Service Center in the Centennial Building. After the first week in February, Illinois motorists who order by mail cannot be certain they will receive their plates in time for the midnight, Feb. 28, deadline. "I strongly urge motorists to purchase their plates over-the-counter in Springfield, at one of our facilities in Cook County or at one of the many Illinois license plate banks. This is the only way they may be certain of having their plates before Feb. 28." Dixon thanked the postal service for "bearing with us during these difficult times." He said the post office was "marvelously cooperative" in handling the increased load of specially-ordered license plates. More motorists asked for special numbers because they know that the plates will be on their automobiles for at least five years under Secretary Dixon's multi-year, staggered registration program, he commented. The program will save Illinois $21 million over the first five years, Dixon estimates. More than six million sets of plates are expected to be sold. Over half this number will be sold over the counter at financial institutions. "Many motorists wait until a week before deadline — sometimes even to the last day — to purchase their plates and this results in impossibly long lines," Dixon said. "Banks already are advertising for their customers to come in right away to purchase plates and thus avoid a tie-up at the end of February." Drivers of leased and fleet automobiles will not be able to purchase plates at the banks. These holders of the so-called "orange application" must purchase plates at one of the four Secretary of State License Plate Facilities in Chicago, at the Centennial Building in Springfield, or by mail within the next few days, he said.

Public session on 'governance' here

Trustee William Norwood of 21K Grove Village, chairman of the special Ad Hoc Committee on Governance established Jan. 23, announced the public session planned at SIUE Wednesday following a closed executive meeting of the group Wednesday at SIU at Carbondale. The committee went into closed session at 10 a.m. and adjourned at 2 p.m. Norwood then read a statement that said: "The ad hoc committee was presented staff papers at the meeting started. It found some appropriate to today's discussions, and some not. These dealing with the appropriate materials were considered; others will be considered at the next meeting, to be at 6 p.m. Feb. 7 at SIUE. It will be a public meeting. "The committee plans to develop final recommendations on governance for board consideration after the study and review has been completed—hopefully next week."

When the five-person study committee was organized at a special board session in Springfield Jan. 23, trustees Chairman Harris Rowe of Jacksonville said it would "review information previously received by the board regarding university governance." He said he hoped recommendations would be ready for the regular monthly meeting of the trustees Feb. 8. Two public hearings on SIU's system-wide governing structure last fall drew a variety of responses. Testimony at the SIUE hearing was virtually unanimous in opposition to a single chief executive setup covering both universities. Norwood said Wednesday the study group "is looking at several ideas brought forth in the public hearings and in a survey of other university systems made by the board staff. We are interested in doing what is right for SIU." SIU is now governed by presidents at SIUC and SIUE, with a general secretary for the entire system.

12¢ hour raises at GC Steel

On Feb. 1, another cost-of-living pay increase was put into effect for Granite City Steel employees. The cost-of-living adjustments (COLA) is based on the government's Consumer Price Index each three months. Hourly-paid employees received a COLA boost of 12 cents an hour on top of the 13 cents an hour in effect the previous three months, plus the $1.89 an hour rolled-in to base rates earlier. Also effective Feb. 1, salaried employees received a monthly COLA increase of $20.76. This is in addition to a previous cost-of-living adjustment of $22.49 in effect from last November through January — and on top of the "roll-in" of approximately $327 per month added since Aug. 1, 1975. The latest COLA is based on the Consumer Price Index of 202.9 for the month of December 1978. The base period of 1967 was 100. No further adjustment will be made until May 1, 1979.

GSA CAREER INTERN DEVELOPMENT PLAN
 The General Services Administration has established a career intern development program as the primary method of staffing entry-level professional, technical and administrative positions. Administrator Jay Solomon has announced. It is hoped to replace 10 percent of each year's professional turnovers with career interns. Intern training will consist of one year of orientation to GSA operations, and progressively responsible work and rotational assignments to prepare interns for specific "target" positions. The second year of internship will provide intensive specialization and professional development experiences. The program is expected to begin Oct. 1.

Faces two city charges
 Claude Garrett, 32, of 808 W. Madison St., Madison, was released on $70 cash bond last week on city charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. Police answered a disturbance call, alleging a man was displaying a gun at Garrett's Lounge, 1000 Douglas Ave., Venice. Claude Garrett is no relation to the owner of the lounge. Police said they had to use force when Garrett allegedly refused to let them search him and again when he refused to get into the police car. Garrett is due in court at 9 a.m., Friday, Feb. 16, at Granite City.

Venice faculty or athletic slashes?

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

While Venice fans were cheering the Red Devils basketball team to a first place victory in the Sparta Mid-Winter Invitational Tournament Monday night, the Venice Board of Education was discussing eliminating the athletic program from the school curriculum.

Haltering athletics and drastic cutbacks in staff were two measures reviewed by the board in an effort to reduce operating expenses in the Venice School District, which is in deep financial trouble.

A checklist of priorities of possible cutbacks had been prepared earlier and distributed to the board.

Members were asked to rate by a 1-through-3 system the items that could be eliminated, those needing more investigation and programs that should definitely be retained.

Closing Venice High School and sending students to another school district could save between $125,000 and $200,000, depending on negotiating efforts to reduce the expense of educating a Venice student outside the district, which would be responsible for the tuition fee.

Four members of the board had indicated on the checklist the high school definitely should not be closed.

"Anything said to me in the community is the people don't want to see the high school closed and students merged into another district," Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers said.

"But this has not been translated into support," he added, referring to the soundly defeated Venice referendum that would have raised the educational and building fund rates by 90 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

With exception of the Venice man, Crawford, a member of the 1975 Venice state championship basketball team, no residents were in evidence at Monday night's special board meeting.

Board Member Earl Hogan also was absent.

"They're probably all at the basketball game," one member commented wryly.

It was noted that four members stated on the checklist that extra curricular activities, involving athletics, should not be eliminated from the district.

With declining assessed valuation in the community, more than $11.1 million in the last four years and nearly $19 million in the past 16 years, plus rejection by Venice voters of the school tax increase in December's referendum, the board is faced with cutting back many programs in the district.

"We have no choice," the members have stated repeatedly.

In what manner this can best be accomplished is the task confronting the board. It was the difficult choices involved that was discussed freely Monday night.

Cutting back one teacher in each grade level from fourth through eighth, a total of five teachers, could save the district about $70,000, but would increase each class size to between 38 and 49 pupils, or an average of 44 students per class.

Current class sizes in Venice average only 25 students.

The faculty cutback proposal elicited a mixed reaction from the board, which agreed that some teachers would have to be trimmed, but indicated that reducing the faculty by five classroom teachers would be too harsh a move.

Forty pupils per class is pretty high, Supt. Vickers admitted, noting that "some kids can make it all right in classes of that size, if they have a fairly decent IQ and solid parents behind them."

"Unfortunately, I don't believe we have a preponderance of these students in school."

More personal attention is needed here than can be given by a teacher with 40 or more children in a classroom, he explained.

This year Supt. Vickers said, there are only 44 children in kindergarten, an unexpected drop from 60 youngsters enrolled two years ago.

The administrator said he had met with the total school staff Jan. 5 and went through the list of possibilities being considered by the board.

"I stressed that no decision had been made as to which areas there would be cuts, but that all points were being explored by the board," he said.

Board President Jack Tolliver stated, "We'll have to make a decision by March 25 if it affects the teaching staff. We must do this to give at least a 60-day notification."

Having a single principal for both high school and grade school was another point discussed.

"I imagine one person could do it," Supt. Vickers said, adding, "But I should say that neither of the current principals wants the job."

He also pointed out that according to state statutes each pupil attendance center must have a principal.

"It would depend on the state whether we could classify the high school and grade school as one attendance center, rather than two," Supt. Vickers said.

Board members and secondary levels occupy separate buildings, joined together by a corridor or walkway.

High school students do attend classes in home economics and shop in a section of the grade school building that was added some time after the main structure was completed. The gymnasium also is in the grade school area.

Eliminating a principal, who could bump a teacher, would save about $15,000.

Dropping a security officer at a saving of $6,200 was discussed.

The district has only one security officer working 3 1/2 days a week, who acts as a guard and is qualified to drive a bus, Supt. Vickers said.

"It would be difficult to do without him, but we definitely would need him if only one principal was in charge of both schools," he explained.

"We may have to do without it," was the remark made about eliminating the music and band position at a savings of $16,000. This program was cut out some years ago and then reinstated on an after-school basis.

"Music already has been dropped in grades 1, 2 and 3" and "we don't have a visible band" were among the comments made by board members.

"The state does not require us to have a school nurse, but does require us to maintain health records and some services," Supt. Vickers said.

"As a cost reduction measure we cut back the nurse's hours from an eight-hour day to 6 1/2 hours some time ago, and she is now paid by the hour," he said.

"We would have to overburden someone else to maintain health records," he added. Eliminating a nurse would save $6,800.

Two secretarial positions, totaling $16,000, a custodial position, $11,000, a special education position, $12,000, a physical education teacher, $16,000, and intown bus service, $7,000, also were reviewed.

Sending high school students in classes of less than 10 to another district would save about $6,000, but could prove much less than that in savings and probably would not reduce the staff at Venice, it was stated.

Eliminating free textbooks could save $18,000, but this proposal probably would have to be submitted to referendum.

"I believe free textbooks were put in effect by a referendum in 1938," Supt. Vickers said.

Dissolving the issuance of free books could be placed on the referendum in April, it was suggested.

"In fact, I imagine there are a couple of things we should place on referendum in April," Tolliver said.

Dropping all extra curricular activities, other than athletics, would save $3,000.

By far the most lengthy discussion focused on closing the high school and curtailing basketball, the latter program with other extra curricular athletics at a saving of $13,000.

"It wouldn't do much good for the school and community as the athletic program has been a rallying point for each," one member stated.

"Lots of people have a deep feeling about sports, especially since winning the state championship in 1975."

But which is more important, athletics or instruction, is the question facing the board.

Wilbert Glasper, board secretary, may have summarized the feelings of the board and administrators in general when he said, "Our main objective is worrying about education and not 10 guys playing basketball. Only a few can play basketball, but everyone is supposed to get the education."

"Sometimes you get these sports advocates to go out and raise money for basketball, but you won't for education," someone else commented.

Although it was obvious the board hated to contemplate sending Venice high school students to another district, the possibility of saving $200,000 could be achieved by this move.

But only if tuition costs could be negotiated, with the second district willing to take a reduced fee and get the remaining money in state aid or through some other available programs, it was stated.

Tuition costs to educate a Madison High School student presently is $1,550. Multiply this by 140 students and the cost of tuition to Venice would be $217,000.

"If we could reduce this amount to about $800 per student, supplemented by funds from other sources through negotiations, then it could save us some money," it was stated.

"Would the second district be required to take on teachers?" the music and band position at a savings of $16,000. This program was cut out some years ago and then reinstated on an after-school basis.

"Admittedly there would be some benefit to the district, but we wouldn't be doing the city any good," Tolliver said. "Whether we like it or not, the city and schools are closely related."

"If we did have to close, it definitely would be a great blow to the community," the Rev. Bailey said.

Groups utilizing the school buildings without cost and reducing expenses of electricity, water and gas, all having increased substantially in the last two years, were other areas "we should take a look at," Tolliver said.

"The situation is very critical and we don't want to make any quick decisions. We have to take the time of all the employees whose jobs are cut and the welfare of all the students," Tolliver stressed.

"Sacrifices will be required by all," the board president said.

The board agreed to deliberate the choices for the next three or four weeks and reconvene in a special session to make their final recommendations.

MR. AND MRS. MONTE HOPKE.

The former Miss Kathy Ann Bryson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bryson Sr. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopke. The candlelight ceremony took place Jan. 6.

Kathy Bryson weds Monte Hopke here

Miss Kathy Ann Bryson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bryson Sr., 3863 Lake St., became the bride of Monte Keith Hopke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hopke, 30 Snowbird Lane, Jan. 6 at 6:30 in the evening.

The Rev. William Young officiated at the double ring ceremony at Emmanuel Baptist Church.

The bride wore a floor-length white satin gown with an Empire bodice trimmed in Chantilly lace. The long full sleeves were cuffed in matching lace. The skirt fell into a long flowing train, which was traced with Chantilly lace.

There was a floor-length veil of white illusion with a ruffle of Chantilly lace. She carried a bouquet of red and white silk roses with baby's breath and white satin ribbons.

Maid of honor, Miss Susan Bryson, the bride's sister, wore a formal length rust colored dress with a satin crepe bodice and knit skirt.

Bridesmaids Miss Jackie Bryson, the bride's sister, and Miss Cathy Mikolazuk wore gold colored floor length dresses with satin bodices and crepe skirts.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of rust camellias and baby's breath with satin ribbons. All flowers were handmade and arranged by the bride's mother and by an aunt, Mrs. Alma Ramey.

The flower girl, Miss Dawn Bryson, the bride's sister, wore a long blue dress with a white lace bodice and apron.

She carried a basket of white and gold blossoms.

Michael Hopke, the groom's brother, served as best man. Groomsman and ushers included Robert Harlan, the bride's uncle; William Davis Jr., the bride's uncle; Greg Griggs and Earl Bryson Jr., the bride's brother.

Mrs. Bryson, the bride's mother, chose a formal length gown of blue knit with long sleeves of blue nylon. The sleeves had a lace overlay.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Hopke, wore a long green knit dress with long sleeves.

A rehearsal dinner was given at the home of the groom's parents. A reception was held in the Moose Lodge after the ceremony.

The bride graduated from Granite City High School North in 1976 and is now employed by the Granite City School District.

The newlywed couple is now residing in Granite City.

DAVID C. HUNTLEY

Professor of art and design at SIUE, he has been named director of newly-established Office of Cultural Arts and University Museum programs. Vice President and Provost Earl E. Lazerson said the appointment, effective Feb. 1, and the administrative reorganization establishing the new office are subject to approval by the SIU Board of Trustees.

Wayne Scannell, president of MBA, has issued an open invitation to any business or individual that has a problem with its listing in the current telephone directory to attend A representative of Illinois Bell will be present.

HURT IN CRASH

Vyvyne Durbin, 55, of 3136 Davis Ave., was injured in a two-car accident which also involved the auto of Dale Moseley, 2821 Denver St., at Nameoki Road and Jill Avenue at 10:10 p.m. Friday. Vyvyne Durbin was released after treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY KLAUS, who were united in marriage Jan. 27. She is the former Andrea Kozan of Wichita, Kan.

Andrea Kozan bride of Jerry E. Klaus

Miss Andrea Kozan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kozan of Wichita, Kan., and Jerry E. Klaus of Granite City were married Jan. 27 in an afternoon ceremony at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Klaus and Mr. and Mrs. John Headrick.

The Rev. William Mathae officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Pink daisies and white pompons adorned the altar. Candles were lighted at the altar by the groom's sisters, Patty and Debby Klaus and Donna Headrick.

Jim Havranek provided the music.

The bride chose a cream colored crepe gown with a scoop neckline designed with a large lace ruffle. It had a fitted bodice with lace over crepe and long lace sleeves edged in lace.

The dress was floor length with a full train ending in a lace ruffle. She wore a Juliet cap, trimmed with lace and seed pearls which extended into a long lace veil.

The former Miss Kozan carried a colonial bouquet centered with a large white orchid, decorated with lilies of the valley and ivy.

The bride chose Gretchen Schmidt of Wichita as her maid of honor.

The groom chose Greg Kieffner as best man. Ushers were Steve Kieffner and Chris Farmer. The groom's brother, Jim Klaus, attended the guest book.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Thekla Kozan, chose a blue qiana floor-length gown fashioned with elbow-length handkerchief sleeves.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Barbara Headrick, wore a crepe formal length dress of cranberry color.

Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony at Wesley Hall in the church.

GOLDEN WEDDING. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kleinmann of Pocahontas, Ill., former residents of Granite City, who are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. A dinner party was hosted by their children at the Brass Lantern in Highland.

Charles Kleinmanns celebrate 50th year

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kleinmann of Pocahontas, Ill., former residents of Granite City, are celebrating the 50th year of their marriage.

An anniversary dinner party for family members and friends was given during the weekend at the Brass Lantern Restaurant, Highland, to observe the occasion.

They are the parents of Mrs. Audre Lehmkuhl of Granite City, Mrs. Betty Green of Falls Church, Va. and Robert Kleinmann of Highland.

Mr. and Mrs. Kleinmann have seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

The honorees were married Jan. 26, 1929, in the Carlinville (Ill.) Methodist Church. Prior to moving to Pocahontas in the 1950's, they had resided in Granite City for 15 years.

Mr. Kleinmann is a retired boilermaker, having worked on construction projects in the area.

His wife is the former Stella Rule. She was a school teacher some years ago in the Pierson-Pocahontas area and, while living here, was employed in the F. W. Woolworth store on 19th Street for several years.

Many good wishes were received by the couple from the area friends, and gifts were presented to them at the dinner party.

Book review at Coterie

The Ladies Coterie met Thursday at the First Presbyterian Church, with Mrs. Clarence Boettiger, hostess, serving a dessert luncheon to 16 members and one guest.

The president, Mrs. Emmett Beeler, was in charge of the business meeting.

Club collect led by Mrs. Charles Kohl and the pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. Dawson Wade.

Program chairman, Mrs. Kieth Edwards, introduced Mrs. G. H. Shaffer, who gave a book review on "Life Was Simpler Then" by Loula Grace Erdman.

The meeting ending with the Lord's Prayer. Next meeting will be a silent auction Feb. 15, with Mrs. Jack Cormier as hostess.

Thompsons name daughter Leslie

Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson, 3929 Village Lane, have selected the name of Leslie Ann for their second daughter, born Jan. 10 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The new arrival weighed nine pounds. She has a sister, Lisa Marie, 2 years old.

The mother is the former Miss Debra Gilmore.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore of Granite City and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson of Joliet, Ill.

Great-grandparents include Mrs. Sam Caruso and Mrs. Scott E. Thompson of Granite City and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hall of Edwardsville.

Love Circle talks of bazaar

Love Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church met in the Pathfinder room. The program theme for this year is "Time for All Things."

Leader Lois Lester presided over the business meeting. She also opened the meeting with prayer and songs.

A bazaar workshop is being held every Monday night in the home of Mary Groshong. Members of all circles are invited.

Hostess Jan Kohl served refreshments to Jo Ann Dix, Betty Jane Mathae, Sharon Haffner, Janet Wilson, Dorothy Allen, Dolores Allen, Corinne Hinson, Gilda Boyle, Lois Lester, Geneva Miller and Joanne Kraus.

BREAK INTO HOME

Entry to the home of Arthur Veres, 3207 Carlson Ave., was gained by breaking a window in a door and climbing through the broken window. Both bedrooms were ransacked and two windows were opened and left open.

build a Capp custom home.

If you already own a building site, or can get one, Capp Homes can help you build the custom home of your dreams. We'll build from your ideas, sketches, or plans. Or select a home design from our large collection. Change it to suit your needs and your building site. It will be a one-of-a-kind home with all the features you've ever wanted.

Over 50,000 families have built Capp Homes. Each built on a different site, with a different budget. And Capp gave them what they wanted. Total design choice for a top quality home, all at a price that they could afford.

Finish-It-Yourself Makes It Possible

Capp helps make homes affordable with what we call the "Finish-It-Yourself House" idea. You'll call it big savings.

First, Capp custom builds your home on your foundation, using top quality lumber, full ply subfloors, multiple windows and insulated exterior doors. Our handpicked craftsmen install and inspect all work to insure high quality standards.

Then you take over. By finishing it yourself, you can save thousands compared to an ordinary builder putting up the same house on your lot. You decide which jobs you want to do and subcontract the rest. Either way, you'll save by cutting out the middleman.

Young need positive challenge, not self-indulgence

Summary of comments — at Saturday night's annual Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council recognition dinner — by Bishop Joseph McNicholas of the Springfield Catholic Diocese: I feel gratitude for the sense of togetherness with you adults who, through scouting, serve young people. Working with the young is a challenge and, at times, is discouraging.

Last year we saw the deaths and elections of two popes, but the biggest story of the year was the tragedy in Guyana — suicides and murders of 900, many of them young people. Scouters, educators, organizations and churches — Jewish, Protestants and Catholics — feel a great responsibility to the young. But we of "the establishment" have suffered; we've been abused and criticized as failures. We've been told in the 1960s and 1970s that the Gospel no longer appeals to youths. We've been told that we can't ask them to sacrifice or to follow in His footsteps.

And yet various ask them to quit school, go to work to support others, live in communes, wear to follow the wishes of their leader even if it involves actions that their mothers and fathers are against.

Many Catholics feel they no longer can let young people consider lives that include collars or habits, but one of the cults has young people at Lash-bert, O'Hare and other airports who shave their heads, wear bizarre costumes and ask strangers to buy books or flowers. They have left their families and churches, and demonstrate tremendous alienation.

Have youths really changed? Human nature never changes. Young people need a challenge, and lose respect for adults who give them the easy way. Jesus did not offer a life of ease, or to make us healthy, wealthy and wise. He offered us the cross, that we might become the salt of the earth and the light of the world.

But while some of us have lost sight of the need to challenge the young, you here tonight have worked for growth of scouting — for the ideals of integrity, decency, patriotism and respect for all. Rather than spreading gloom and doom, and deciding that children no longer are interested in scouting, you've gone out and proved otherwise. The virtues you preach are virtues that never grow old. You give of yourselves, and I'm proud to be associated with you.

There are many examples of the destructive culture of ease and self-indulgence — the Lee Marvin suit that calls attention to the practice of living together, and the death by drug overdose of musician Sid Vicious while he was awaiting trial for murdering the woman he had lived with.

Another current story tells of the visit by Chinese Vice-Premier Teng Hsiao Ping, and reminds us of Red China, where they indoctrinate the young and never let children's and youth's freedom get away from them.

In the United States, it is not going to be the government. People like you — or no one — will convey our way of life to our young people. We must do so, because we know that we cannot abandon them — that we can spare them from destruction if we act. We must lead and uplift, so that each new generation can make its rightful contribution to God and country and fellow men.

Missouri politicians meddling with our bus system

Post-Dispatch comment — St. Louis County Supervisor Gene McNary's contention that hiring a company to run the Bi-State Transit System would "take Bi-State Development Agency out of politics is sheer hypocrisy, for there is no one who has done more to politicize the bus system than the county supervisor.

What there is about a private company hired by Bi-State that would make it less susceptible to political influence than executives who worked directly for Bi-State was not explained by the supervisor or, for that matter, by the Regional Commerce and Growth Association committee that recommended the step.

One thing is quite apparent, though. Mr. McNary wants to have even more political power over Bi-State than he now has.

Already the supervisor, with the cooperation of his six backers on the County Council, has set in motion to bankrupt the bus system — a power he has demonstrated he is quite willing to use unless the system is run the way he wants.

Now he also wants to say who the governor may appoint to Bi-State's board of commissioners. It would be a matter of substituting his political choices for the governor's, though the process is called accountability when he does it and politics when the governor does it.

However, if it would help reduce the meddling it would be a worthwhile change, which apparently was the reason the RCGA committee recommended that the commissioners be appointed from lists submitted by the supervisor and the mayor.

The RCGA committee, established after the county supervisor threatened to destroy the bus system by withholding the county's share of its tax subsidy, also recommended that 90 percent of the sales tax money go directly to Bi-State, bypassing the city and county appropriation process, after a budget has been agreed on.

Mr. McNary isn't as enthusiastic about that promising idea as the proposed change in the appointing procedure, but no matter; it has already been rejected by a House committee and is not expected to get much support in the Senate.

What the RCGA committee tried to do was devise mechanisms that would minimize politicking, promote confidence and efficiency and assure adequate public funding.

As desirable as those objectives are, for the little prospect that they can be achieved as long as the responsibility for providing bus service is lodged one place and the control over the money is vested elsewhere.

To do that, however, it would be necessary to make major changes in the law just at a time when the politicians — such as State Sen. Giles and others as well as Supervisor McNary — have discovered how nice it is to have Bi-State to kick around. Accordingly, the agency is probably stuck with trying to make the most of an unsatisfactory situation.

Faulty logic or phony excuse by university board

"No one knows what goes on behind closed doors," as the popular song says.

Southern Illinois University trustees are using faulty reasoning or phony excuses in deliberating secretly over whether and how to revise the present administrative structure of two campus presidents and a system general secretary.

Taking note of its power to hire and fire such administrators publicly and to talk about them secretly, the board said it has been meeting privately on governance because whatever is decided will affect their careers.

Administrators' careers also might be affected by a wide range of other factors and board actions, not to mention acts of God, but such a broad interpretation of the Illinois Open Meetings act isn't valid or acceptable. And this is especially true in view of the SCU's long history of avoiding the intent of the act.

What trustees are saying is that they think they can get away with — and intend to try — developing and implementing a reorganization plan with little or no opportunity for the public to respond upon learning of its details.

This is a serious breach of their proper role and procedures — and one that taxpaying citizens, students, university staffs, the higher education board, legislators and the governor surely won't take lying down.

GC man dies after crash

Salena Price dies at 9

Oscar "PM" Dowdy, 54, of 2110 Lee Ave., was injured fatally and two other Quad-City area residents were injured in a two-car, head-on collision in Cahokia at 2:35 a.m. Sunday.

Mr. Dowdy, driver of one of the cars, died in St. Mary's Hospital at 11:07 a.m. of injuries received in the crash.

Injured were Jeffrey W. Kee, 23, of 4049 Jeffery Drive,

Pontoon Beach, driver of the other car, and Mary Vasquez, 23, of 2234 Edwards St. Both were taken to Firmen Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Cahokia police said Mr. Dowdy's car was southbound in the 3400 block of Mississippi Avenue in Cahokia, a major, four-lane highway, when Kee's car, which was northbound, apparently ran over the center line and collided with Mr. Dowdy's car.

Both Miss Vasquez and Kee were reported in serious condition.

Police said they have filed a charge of improper lane usage against Kee. An inquest is pending by the St. Clair County Coroner's office.

Born in Biggers, Ark., Mr. Dowdy resided in the area six years.

He was a farm worker and a member of the Catholic faith. He was also a member of Moose Lodge 272, Granite City.

Among his survivors are one brother, Charles H. Dowdy, Granite City and his mother, Mrs. Nell Turner, Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Miss Salena Antoinette Price, 9, of Cahokia, granddaughter of a Granite City, resident, died Sunday at home. She has been ill for some time.

She was preceded in death by her paternal grandfather, Arlie Price and maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas (Emily) Santagato. Among her survivors are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence (Linda) Price; one sister, Miss Tamra Anne Price, at home, Westleyan grandmother, Mrs. Mary Price, Cahokia; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ester Shane, Granite City.

Funeral arrangements given in the obituary column.

Fire destroys cars in Mathews fire

News notes

A 1976 Chevrolet was destroyed and at least 20 automobiles, both new cars and vehicles in for service, were damaged by smoke in a fire at 1:35 a.m. Sunday at Mathews Chevrolet Co., Niedringhaus and Madison avenues.

The blaze occurred on the lower floor of the service building.

A fire official noted today the building is constructed of concrete, which probably saved the remainder of the agency from destruction.

Someone at St. Elizabeth Medical Center saw smoke coming from the automobile agency and called the fire department, a spokesman said.

The gutted auto had been brought in for service Saturday morning, with the owner telling service personnel that he had smelled something burning in the vehicle.

A Mathews' Chevrolet employee reported having been in the servicing department most of Saturday, but had not detected any odor of smoke or burning.

A large fire on a truck adjacent to the destroyed auto also burned.

The truck fire, combined with the four fires on the Chevrolet, produced a large amount of dense black smoke which caused considerable damage to the building's interior and the other vehicles.

The amount of loss had not yet been estimated this morning, a spokesman for the fire department stated.

Art Schuette of the Organizing Committee of Eastern Madison County told the Madison County Board of Review on Tuesday that the township tax multiplier set by the county for real estate property also should be applied to corporate personal property. This could increase the county's assessment base by $20 million, he estimated. Assessment Supervisor James Barton said corporate personal property is assessed properly at one-third of value and cannot be raised beyond that.

Pres. Jimmy Carter seeks $5 million for a standby draft system. Some high officials favor having both young men and young women register for possible induction into military service.

Former State Rep. Joe E. Lucco, who headed the Illinois Energy Resources Commission until Jan. 9, has become a paid IERC staff member.

Special arrangements by the Governor's Travel Control Board enabled former Law Enforcement Director Tyrone C. Fahner to charge the state more than $5,400 for sheltering him in an $88,000 home he owned in Springfield.

Tighter rules are effective today on transport of hazardous materials in Illinois. Federal rules will be applied to materials moved within the state.

Saad Jabr, an Iraqi who lives in Carbondale, is buying the DuQuoin Fairgrounds, site of the annual Hambletonian harness horse race.

Doctors at Christian Welfare Hospital have formed a non-profit corporation and are negotiating with Medenco, a Houston, Tex., firm, to take over management of the financially-squeezed East St. Louis hospital.

Five bills introduced in the state legislature would raise the beer-wine drinking age from 19 to 21.

Education groups are opposing as insufficient Governor James R. Thompson's recommendations Thursday to budget $2 billion for public schools and $893 million for state colleges and universities.

Jury selection is scheduled to begin today at Alton in the federal trial of former Sheriff John Masera, his former aide Capt. John Cooper and Tennessee businessman Leland Stoller.

Unemployment dropped in Illinois from 6.5 percent to five percent in January, but rose in the St. Louis metropolitan area from 4.9 to six percent. Nationally, jobless decreased from 5.9 to 5.8 percent.

Granite City Steel President James V. Steel said Friday emphasis currently is being placed on safety, cost control, and restoration of the No. 5 galvanizing line to operating condition.

Seek driver in Madison crash

Granite City police are searching for 18-year-old Edgewood Avenue man who fled on foot from auto after it was involved in a three-vehicle accident on Madison Avenue north of 24th Street at 3:15 a.m. Saturday.

Police said the autos of Fernando Narvaez, 1519 Market St., Madison, and Christopher Pritchard, 2404 Cardinal Ave., were northbound when the third car went through the stop sign at 24th Street at Narvaez's auto.

Narvaez said he swerved to avoid the oncoming auto and collided with Pritchard's car. The third auto then attempted to leave the area, but struck Narvaez's car in the left rear. The driver who is sought then spun his car into the yard at 2410 Madison Ave., got out and fled on foot from the scene.

Police talked to several persons, including a passenger in the third auto, before preparing reports on the accident.

Cougar cagers are beaten

By TOM LANGE for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Despite a brilliant first half by Bonnie Lewis and the hot hand of Greg Payne, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team had its four-game winning streak snapped by every basketball club's favorite charity, the free throw line. The Cougars lost 82-76 in a game that was a "gimme's" compared to the Cougars' 9-0-11 and sunk SIUE, 76-73 in Owensboro, Ky., Saturday night.

After opening a nine point bulge midway in the first half, the Cougars held only a two-point edge at halftime, 39-37. Turnovers again cost the Cougars a fairly sized lead, but this time, it was the foul trouble that helped wreck SIUE.

Payne popped in 10 points in the first half and 12 in the second half to equal Lewis' total, but it wasn't quite enough to push the Cougars past the Panthers, who now lead in the teams' series, 4-0.

SHOTGUN IS TAKEN
A shotgun, about 10 shotgun shells, $30 in coins and a Granite City High School class ring were stolen during a burglary at the home of Steve Arnold, 1511 Second St., Apt. 8, Madison, on Saturday at 3 a.m. Saturday. There were no signs of forced entry.

GRANITE CITY
Memorial Gymnasium at Granite City South was the scene of another classic Granite City North-Granite City South wrestling dual meet Thursday night.

South emerged victorious after following North's early lead until the middle weights. When the upper weights did battle, South dominated that portion of the meet, 38-12.

"I thought both teams were equally matched," said South's 167 pounder, junior Scott Polson. Polson had the honor of clinching the meet for the grappling Warriors by defeating North's Mitch Steen.

Gerald Miller, a sophomore 98-pound wrestler for the 14-4 Steelers, brought North into the meet with an opening superior decision over South's Rick Presswood. Miller put Presswood on his back eight times and tallied 23 near fall points — but was unsuccessful in his attempts to pin the light Warrior in the 29-1 match.

"Miller couldn't put him away," said North's head coach, Walt Whitaker. "I have to give credit to Presswood for keeping away from the pin."

Greg Garland at 105 brought South to within one point as he majored Russ Grasso of North, 15-5. Garland dominated the match. Junior Bobby Kirgan decided senior Rocky Lupardus of South, 5-2, in a hard-fought battle. Lupardus took the original takedown only to have Kirgan reverse him in the same period. That match put North on top 8-4. The category of 119 pounds brought the only major upset of the dual meet — Rodney Lupardus over Tracy Patton of North. Lupardus got two takedowns in the first period giving Patton an escape between them.

Patton started on top in the second period and Lupardus reversed him and put him on his back for two points which put the South wrestler ahead 8-1. Patton could only muster five more points before the final buzzer sounded — South was back within one, 8-7.

Barry Forshee of South and Allen Kirgan of North, both seniors, duelled to see which team would gain the lead. South did. No takedown was awarded in the first period. Kirgan went on top 1-0 at the end of the second period with an escape. Forshee escaped and took Kirgan back down with only 44 seconds remaining in the match. That did Kirgan as he lost 3-2. South took the lead in the match for the first time, 10-8.

Greg Shemwell returned the lead to North by shutting out Phil Beljanski of South 9-0. But, undefeated Sam Perkins of South at 138 did Kevin Shemwell in 13-2 to give the Warriors a lead they never lost. Perkins with the win, bolstered his unblemished record at 28-0. South scalps Injuns

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South basketball Warriors, by downing two teams over the weekend, have raised their record to 14-5.

Saturday night, at South the Warriors scalped the Indians of Mascoutah 60-53. Friday at Belleville Althoff, they beat the Crusaders 66-51.

South's shooting was a little off in the two games, but it still had enough to win. Against Althoff, South shot 40 percent from the field and only 63 percent from the line and in the battle with Mascoutah, the Warriors only shot 42 percent and 62 percent from the field and line.

MASCOUTAH — Baker 2, McCool 6, Jenner 27, Gillis 6, Drew 4, Hund 4, FG 22, FT 9, PF 14, TP 53.

SOUTH — Jeff Parker 16, Jeff Tretter 6, Jeff Vaughn 2, James Blasigame 23, Lee Heubner 11, Mike DeGonia 2, FG 26, FT 8, PF 14, TP 60.

SOUTH 60
MASCOUTAH 53
Kris Jenner, a 6'6" junior forward from Mascoutah, was the star of the contest as he was good for 27 total points.

"All we tried to do was to contain the other players and not let them get the ball to Jenner. I knew he would score a bunch," said the head coach of the Warriors, Don Deterding.

Not too far behind Jenner was South's James Blasigame with 23 points. He had 16 points at halftime compared to Jenner's 13.

"We took the ball to them and missed a few, but we did alright. We held them down late in the ball game when it counted," said Deterding.

"In the first quarter, we tried to press them," said Deterding. "We saw that we couldn't do that, so we switched to our straight five defense. That's our half-court 1-3-1."

Mascoutah cut the deficit to one point several times and that was how the third period ended. South atop by one — 43-42. The Indians outscored South by one field goal in the quarter. No charity tosses were made by either team.

SOUTH 60
ALTHOFF 51

Jeff Parker and Bill Skinner stole the show for the Warriors with 17 total points each. However David Bone and Kurt Zollner had 18 and 16 points respectively for the Crusaders.

"We didn't play as well as I thought we could," said Deterding. "But whenever you can win a game in which you don't play well you've done alright."

Friday box score can be found in Scoreboard, page 19.

JAMES BLASINGAME (30), goes up for two of his 23 points here Saturday night against

North scares Madison

GRANITE CITY — The turning point. It's an over-used cliché sports writer's implement. Sometimes it's an easy way out of a difficult story.

But Friday night here, there WAS a turning point. And it well could have cost Granite City North's basketball Steelers an upset win over Madison at Memorial Gymnasium.

Madison claimed a 64-56 victory.

But that "turning point." Let's set up the situation: With 3:38 left in the game and Madison holding a 51-45 lead, North's Mike Robertson stole a Trojan pass and drove the length of the court. There, he was met by two Madison players and two of his teammates, Tom Greco and Dennis Page. But between the three of them, the North players missed four layup attempts before Madison came away with a rebound.

"That was the ball game as far as I'm concerned," said North Coach Bill Ohlendorf. "We had a chance to get within four points of them. Instead, they got the ball, come down and score and go up by eight."

"It broke our backs," But what were the Steelers doing within six points of highly-regarded Madison that late in the game anyway? Weren't the Trojans supposed to come into Granite City and knock off North with ease and not break a sweat?

If that had been the plan of Madison Head Coach Larry Graham, he quickly discarded it when North's Page and Robertson started on their act.

Robertson paced the Steelers with 20 points while Page was good for 18. "Mike (Robertson) is starting to come into his own," said Ohlendorf. "We thought early in the season that he could be one of our top players, but he's just taken a little longer to come along."

Robertson kept the Steelers in the game on several occasions by diving for loose balls and intercepting Madison passes.

But in the end, Robertson and Page were outdone by a Mercers to go semi-pro?

GRANITE CITY — Plans have been announced to explore the possibility of putting a semi-professional baseball team in the Edwardsville-Granite City area.

The plans are being formulated by Pat Peterson, player-coach of last season's Mercers team in the Illinois Intercity League, one of the most successful teams in the league in recent years.

Peterson is one of five former minor league players on the Mercers team. The team is sponsored by Mercers Mortuary of Granite City and plays its home games in Wilson Park here. Several of the team members are Granite Cityans.

Peterson said he is giving Mercers the first shot at sponsoring the new team. "Our main goal is to qualify for the American Baseball Congress Tournament in Wichita at the end of the season," he said. "The tourney attracts some of the best semi-pro and amateur baseball teams in the country."

If Mercers does continue to sponsor the team, the home games will have to be evenly split between Edwardsville and Granite City. Home base for the Granite City games would probably be Diamond One in Wilson Park, while the likely candidate in Edwardsville would be Hoppe Park.

Intercity League games are played on Sundays during the summer, but Peterson said he would like to have one or more weeknight games in the schedule.

depending on who sponsors the group.

"If Mercers continues to sponsor the team, it will cut down costs," he said. "We have those uniforms already. But if we have to get another sponsor, that means having to buy new uniforms."

Peterson said the current Mercers lineup will be evaluated. "Everybody wants more depth in pitching," he said.

Peterson said there are several other areas the team needs to strengthen.

If the "new" Mercers is a success, Peterson said he wants to build up the lineup with more college material. "I don't see why we can't develop a team like the ones some of the smaller towns in Kansas have," he said. However, Peterson said he probably will not act as player-coach, as he did last season.

Strength vs. strength

GRANITE CITY — Strength met strength here Thursday night. North vs. South.

Wrestling. The sport that made Granite City famous.

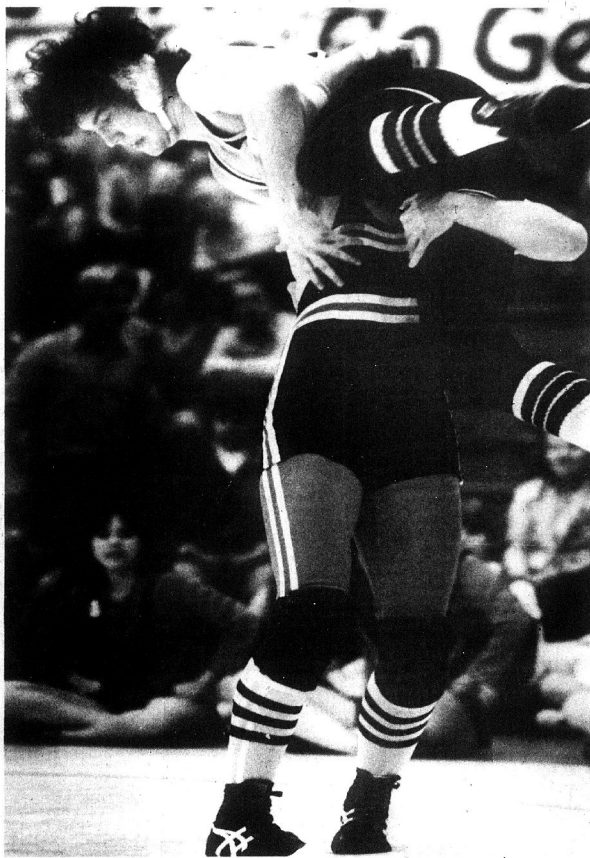

In the end, it was South's overall strength that outdid North's.

The first four bouts showed how even the teams were in lower weights. North won the first bout easily. Then back came South for a win. Then North. Then South. After four bouts the score was 12-10 in favor of North. That's when South's overall strength came to light. The Warriors won the next eight bouts, the last three by pins and beat the Steelers 38-12.

The gymnasium at GCHS South was noisy. Very noisy. The visiting fans from North actually outnumbered and outcheered the South boosters. It reminded one of a college football game rather than a high school wrestling match.

But then, that's wrestling ... Granite City style.

Friday action...

Devils thrash Delevan 90-54

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
VENICE — Maybe it wouldn't have been so bad if they hadn't come so far, but Delevan's Panther basketball team began a weekend trip to this area, with a 90-54 loss to the Venice Red Devils.

Delevan, which is about 150 miles north of here, played Venice Friday and Madison Saturday. After meeting Venice, the Panthers might have wondered about the wisdom of making such a trip.

The Red Devils were clearly the superior team, outshooting the Panthers almost two to one. The Red Devils also employed a pressing defense against the Panthers.

"That's very uncharacteristic of us," said Venice Coach Ken Perkins. "We just had a little practice. Our guys knew this team, just wasn't in their league."

Delevan probably wouldn't agree, especially after the first quarter. The Panthers kept the score close by determined shooting. Although they shot the ball 14 times, the Panthers made only four field goals.

Venice, on the other hand, shot only 10 times, but scored 13 points. But at the end of the period Venice held just a 13-9 lead.

The Panther's center, Mike Goeken made four of his team's five field goals. He also missed four, but his in itself was an accomplishment. He was matched against Venice's Ron Salmond, who had about a five inch height advantage.

Goeken's coach, Steve Larmer, said, "He missed a lot of shots in the first half, but I'm pretty happy with his performance. Salmond can really jump."

Salmond demonstrated his jumping ability about half way through the second quarter when he rejected one of Goeken's base line shots. At the time the score was 21-13, but Salmond's play sparked the Red Devils, who went on to take a 34-21 halftime lead.

In the second half, the Devils proved Perkins' comparison of the two teams was on the mark. Venice opened up with the press, making ball handling for the Panthers an adventure in stealing passes and snaring critical rebounds. With 4:26 left, he had put on enough of a show to narrow the Madison lead to 20-17.

Back came the regulars. "Goeken's an excellent player," said Graham. "He can go to the hoop and knows how to position himself for rebounds."

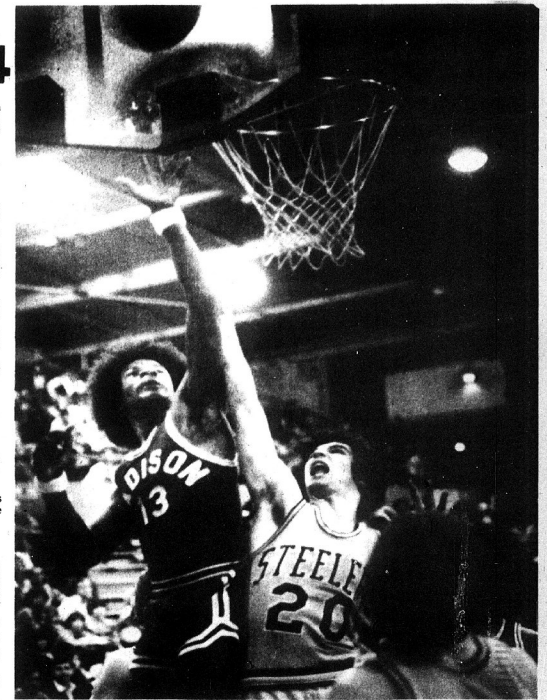

The beginning of the second half looked like a carbon copy of the beginning of the game... except that the roles were reversed. This time it was Delevan which had trouble finding the handle on the basketball. But much of that was because of Madison's hounding defense which caused several turnovers.

Leading the way for Madison in the game was Morris Hughes with 17 points. "He's a hell of a ball player, isn't he," asked Graham. "He's doing a super job. But it's team effort out there. When one guy's not having a good night, there's always someone else to pick up the slack."

MADISON Larry Graham got a good look at his reserves here Saturday night.

Graham watched on as his Madison Trojan cagers fumbled through the first quarter then caught fire to annihilate out-casted Delevan 77-58.

"We got a chance to get a look at some players out of position," said Madison Coach Larry Graham. "But early on, we still had trouble holding on to the ball."

The Trojans, despite those fumble-if-it problems, jumped out to a 15-8 lead at the end of the first quarter. With about seven minutes left in the second period, Graham started filtering in some of his reserves. He thought the game was about decided by that point.

But Mike Goeken had other ideas. The 6'4" center of Delevan's Panthers started hitting from inside, Until late in the game, Madison had been forced to shoot from the outside by North's pesky defense. Attempts to lob the ball inside to Eric Stanley or Kenny Stanley were fruitless. Then came Hughes.

Hughes got loose time after time for Madison to break-door North and get the needed inside scoring to take the burden off their outside shooters.

"Morris it going to be one heck of a ball player," said Graham. "I saw him play in the eighth grade and knew it then."

The victory by Madison gave the Trojans a 15-3 record going into Saturday's game at home against Delevan (see page 19). North dropped to 3-12.

night. He pinned Bruce Uzunoff in 5:03. Perkins was leading 4-0 at the time.

Blaine Cline at 155 followed Perkins' example and pinned Brad Taylor in 3:40 to put South up 26-12. North would have to win all three of the final three bouts to win the contest. Fate wouldn't allow it.

Polson dictated South's win by defeating Steen 8-5. In that bout, Steen led 2-1 after the first period. Polson came back 4-3 at the end of two and Steen tied it at 4-4 at the beginning of the final period. That's when Polson scored on a four-point move a takedown and a two-point near fall — to give him his 26th win of the season and to give South its 21st win of the season.

South's Don King downed Mike Painter at 185, 6-2, and at heavyweight, Warrior Mark Seibert pinned Johnson with only one play Granite City South Wednesday, March 7. The championship game will be played Friday, March 9, between the two winners. All games will start at 7:30 p.m.

In the Freeburg Class A Regional, Freeburg will play Columbia and Dupo will meet Belleville St. Henry on Tuesday, Feb. 27. Venice will face tough Lovejoy of second remaining in the first period 1-0. Those two bouts made the team score 38-12.

"Overall, I thought there was a lot of good wrestling in the meet," said Whitaker. "South is tough and they showed it."

Next weekend, South hosts the District Tournament on Friday and Saturday. The South Warriors are favored in both the District and the Sectional which will be contested the week after the District Tourney.

The winners of the North Regional will advance to the Alton Sectional, while the Freeburg winner goes on to the Vandalia Sectional.

INVESTMENTS IN REAL ESTATE

One of the best investments a person can make is to buy Real Estate (rental units, residential, or commercial). On rental property you make money in three ways. 1st, the difference between the rent and the mortgage payments; 2nd, the amount the mortgage is paid down each month; and 3rd, the increasing value of the property each year. Not to mention the tax advantages. I show you some examples. I have had rental property for the last 20 years, hold a Real Estate Broker's license. No obligation, gimmicks, or get rich quick schemes. Just solid investments. For more information call...

Cars for Sale 15

I'm Proud of You, NICK HUNIAK

Your boss wishes to acknowledge the really super job of salesmanship that you accomplished in 1978 - Selling more cars to more people than any other salesperson in the Tri-Cities - Showing a responsibility to your customers that reflects true professional salesmanship. Alltime membership in Chrysler "Elite 300," top Chrysler Plymouth sales group in the country - And above all, contributing so much to the growth and stability of Granite Chrysler-Plymouth. Thanks for a job well done!

Best month of the year

I really must get all of these dreary winter thoughts out of my head. My brain is frozen solid from the ice and snow all around me.

Contemplate with me, if you will, the thoughts of things to come. After all, spring is just around the corner... isn't it?

Let us think of April. Beautiful, muggy, wet April. The rains come and the snow is gone. My back yard is knee deep with mud and last year's leaves. Who needs it? Ah, May, sweet, warm month. The flowers are blooming. How nice. When I think of May, I think of two things... spring cleaning and the monsters being let out of school. Forget May. What could be better in this weather than to think ahead to June? Without a doubt, June is the best month of the year. The kids go off to Grandma's house. The flowers are out in full force. The grass is growing... and growing. The air-conditioner is not working in my car (stupid car).

Then there's July. The grass is still growing; it is two feet high. The weeds have taken over the garden and tornadoes are forecast every other day. Why did I ever start this?

It is August. It is so hot that I cannot breathe. The air-conditioner in the house is not working. At least I don't have to worry about the grass; it hasn't rained in three weeks.

Is there any month that I can turn to and be perfectly satisfied?

September? Lots of good things in September. The kids are back in school (you really think I like to get rid of my kids, don't you?). The weather is terrific and I can take a vacation. But when I get back, the storm windows and painting of the house await.

What is so bad about February, anyway?

Sure, it's cold and snowy. But there is no grass to cut. No windows to wash, no weeds, no worrying about where to go on a Saturday night. You just stay inside—where, hopefully, it is warm—and contemplate.

By George, I think I have hit upon it. February is the best month of the year.

Patron hosts named for Mardi Gras Ball

Dr. and Mrs. George E. Bassford have been selected to serve as patron chairmen for the Ninth Annual Mardi Gras Ball, sponsored by the Madison County Unit of the American Cancer Society.

The dance, which will be held on Saturday, March 10, in the Lewis and Clark Restaurant Ballroom, East Alton, is preceded by a cocktail party at the Stratford Hotel, Alton, exclusively for patrons.

Dr. Bassford and his wife, June, have taken an active part in civic affairs for many years.

He is a native of Edwardsville, and a graduate of Washington University, St. Louis.

Dr. Bassford interned in oral surgery at Hillman General Hospital, Birmingham, Ala., and has practiced in Alton since 1937, taking time out to serve two years in World War II as Chief of Dental Staff at the 31st Station Hospital in the South Pacific. He was discharged with the rank of major.

He is a staff member of Alton Memorial, St. Joseph's, St. Anthony's and Wood River Township hospitals. He is also a member of the Pierre Fauchard Academy, an international dental organization.

June Bassford is a member and past president of the Alton Community Service League, and currently is serving on the advisory board of St. Joseph's Hospital.

She is a former board member of the YWCA, and has participated in area beautification projects through Pride, Inc., Alton Community League, and The Alton Park and Recreation Department.

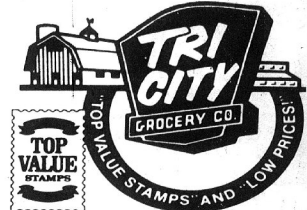

They are the parents of three grown children: Mrs. Janine Sebastian, Austin, Tex.; George Curtin Bassford, Mansfield, Mass.; and Mrs. Cynthia Nappa, Westwood, Mass., and have three grandchildren.

Both are avid golfers, participating in many area and state tournaments.

Mrs. Bassford is three

ALL OUR STEAKS ARE TRIPLE-TRIMMED FOR BETTER VALUE

Our triple-trim for all Kroger meats means that excess portions of 1) fat, 2) bone and 3) waste are removed before your cut is weighed and priced. Even so, every steak, as with everything Kroger sells, is sold with a replacement or money-back guarantee of total satisfaction.

FOR PRICE...FOR VALUE KROGER MEANS BETTER MEAT.
